

TRAILER COURTS

At Martin's

By Trigger Howard

Things really happened Sunday night. We had an explosion in camp. (No, not what you think.) Richard Kirth tried to light his butane heater and it blew up, throwing his wife against the kitchen cabinet and bumping her head.

Their four-year-old daughter was unhurt, but the concussion was so strong it threw Mr. Kirth out and into the living room. He was badly burned on the hands and arms. The explosion knocked over a glass of milk on the cabinet and split the stove pipe wide open.

John and Gloria Westgaard had friends in Sunday night for pinchle. They were Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker, his two brothers, Walt and Ralph Westgaard. Lunch was served. The game was won by Walt and Shirley. Helen and Marion Wiley spent the week end building a porch on their trailer. They are preparing for a had winter.

A Hallowe'en party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith Sunday night by Frances Smith and Joyce Mattila. The living room was cleverly decorated with crepe paper, balloons, skeletons and jack-o-lanterns, with a large hand-drawn picture by Frances Smith. Guests were greeted with refreshments, and games were played, including a treasure hunt for prizes. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Al Ward, Rames Shehee, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Stiffler, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Getz of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Howard, Don Smith and Wally Mattila.

Gloira and John Westgaard drove into Salem Monday to do some shopping. They parked the car by a parking meter, got out to donate a nickel to the city and found they had left their money at home. I guess the midnight show Saturday was too much for them.

Happy and Howard McElvain had company Sunday: Howard's mother and two sisters and their two husbands, all of Portland.

Melvin Woodrum and friend Jean spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrum.

Edna and Lou McCabe spent the week end helping their friends, the Morrisons, move into their new duplex.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Carlson spent the week end in Portland where they had a trailer hitch put in their new car.

Don and Shirley Walker now have a new awning for their trailer.

Mr. and Ms. Bud Howard had as guests over the week end Mr. and Mrs. Ed Getz of Detroit.

Monday night was grownups' night in camp. Everyone spent dollars and dimes and hours of time fixing things for trick-or-treaters, and the children did their very best to make us all happy. By 9:30 they were all heading home with their booty, tired and ready for bed. Ronnie Walker was so tired when he got home he just barely made it to the door, and landed on the floor, too tired to get up. His mother asked him where his sack of candy was. He said, "I ate all I could, Mommy, and then just threw it all away."

A masquerade party was given at the Floyd Kilbourne home Saturday night. The first couple of hilarious hours were spent without conversation, each trying to hide his identity. The evening was spent dancing and a buffet lunch was served. Eight couples were present.

DETROIT

By MRS. J. A. WRIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and children Myron and Lynn came from Pacific Grove on Wednesday to Mill City to get their furniture. There they visited her aunt Mrs. Smith, and then came on to Detroit for a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson, and his brother Bob Johnson and family. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson had as their guests their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Stayton. They took their guests for a view of the Peterson Rock Gardens near Redmond.

Jos Mazerke of Minneapolis arrived on Thursday for a visit with his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs before going on to California where he will work this winter.

Several women from Mill City, Lyons and Gates were among those initiated into the Fraternal Order of Eagles auxiliary of Santiam Aerie at ceremonies held here Sunday afternoon.

A minstrel show sponsored by the Santiam Fraternal Order of Eagles Aerie 2745 will be given some time in November. This is being produced by Frank Wilson. Stage director is Mrs. Eli Bangs, and Mrs. Ferguson of Mongold directs the chorus and Mrs. Gordon Skidmore has charge of the orchestra. The Eagles are turning over all the proceeds for the benefit of the grade school library and school lunches.

At impressive ceremonies at the new school auditorium here on Sunday afternoon the ladies auxiliary of Santiam Aerie 2745 F. O. E. was instituted. There were 66 charter signers, 48 being initiated during the afternoon ceremonies.

Officers for the auxiliary also elected and installed were: Past Madame President Eva Fowler, Detroit; madame president, Lillian E. Ingalls, Detroit; vice president, Warnell L. Smith, Detroit; chaplain, Effie Viola Smith; conductor, Christina Utter, Idanha; secretary, Geraldine Howard; treasurer, Lois White, Detroit; inner guard, Lillian Gescher, Idanha; outer guard, Estaline Holbert, Detroit; trustees: Melba G. Delleire, Anne Anderson, Eva Debolt, all of Idanha.

Investigating committee: chairman, Lola V. Henness, Gates; Mary Wilson, Detroit; Margaret Rasmick, Detroit. Entertainment committee: Ester Frane, Detroit; Myrtle Geston, Idanha; auditor, Genevieve Bangs; membership campaigns, Inez Haun, Gates, Valderia Maliszewski, Detroit, Lillian Gescher, Idanha. These committees were appointed by Madame President Lillian Ingalls at the institution meeting Oct. 30.

W. M. Loy, state president of F. O. E., was the instituting officer. Present also were his wife, Eunice Loy, state auxiliary chaplain, and Aura Harmon, M. P. of Bend auxiliary, and Louise Nicholson, captain of the

LITTLE ILLS MAKE BIG BILLS!

• True, that "little illness" you've been mentioning in an offhand way, may not seem to amount to much—just a few faint symptoms. But, neglected, these "little ills" can lead to big bills for doctors, medicines, etc; not to mention needless suffering and loss of precious time. Consult a Doctor now—you'll save by it in the end! And, of course, we hope you'll bring his prescription to us for careful compounding.
