MRS. LINCOLN HENNESS GATES

Mrs. Lincoln Henness of Gates submits the following—her spring song:

"The Spring has come.
The snow has went,
It was not did
By axy—dent!
The sun has shined
The breeze has blowed,
The birds has sang,
The flowers has growed,
And the time has came—
As it always do
To spring the same old stuff
On you!"

I appeal to any cook, be she bride or be she master, what is more disheartening than a gorgeous egg souffle gone flat because it waited in the oven for a late-homecoming male?

With my once-beautiful triumph staring at me limply from a scorched casserole I got a jolt: "Sorry I'm late, dear. Watch stopped again and I missed the train."

After murderous thoughts subsided I determined that a new watch was number one on the present parade for His Honor's birthday. I hid myself to the jeweler the next day for a look at something to bring 'im back on time.

I got more than I bargained for: I was treated to a behind-the-scenes peek at how watch manufacturers come up with those beautiful designs you and I accept so casually. Why, as much talent, thought, effort, research, and time goes into a new watch design as into the latest Paris femme fatale creation!

Take for instance, America's largest watch manufacturers in Elgin, Ill., wanted a new series of men's and ladies' watches in the moderately-priced category to appeal to the young and young in heart. Then the fireworks started. A panel of judges was carefully selected made up of four young, top-notch New York designers. These experts drew up a list of qualifications a design must meet to get their approval. Packed into the list was research from throughout the field; information from people who forecast fashion, jewelers who find out trends, the man on the street, designers, manufacturers. Boiled down, the qualifications said today's watch must be simple and functional in design from which time can be told at a glance. It must be smart and uncluttered in appearance.

With the list firmly in hand, the panel of judges next went over hundreds of designs submitted by Elgin. They came up with five men's and five ladies' watches. And the All American youth series was born!

My own expert agreed with the judges 100 per cent. And there hasn't been a scorched casserole since his birthday!
