

Shamrock Tea Given By Detroit Civic Club

The shamrock motif was in evidence at the home room of the high school on Wednesday, St. Patrick's Day when the Womens Civic club gave a tea in interest of the Detroit, public library.

The room was decorated with shamrocks, greenpaper hats and streamers of green and white crepe paper.

The tea table was arranged with a handmade cloth, laid in contrast over a green paper background. Centering the table were daffodils in a pottery bowl flanked by green candles set in holders made of large Irish potatoes. The St. Patrick's motif was carried out in the table accessories as well as the greenfaced dainty sandwiches. Served also were shamrock cookies, tea, and coffee.

Near the entrance door was a table with centerpiece made up of a miniature Irishman putting a donation in a greenhat, this was emphasized by a clever Irish verse. Green candy snakes added to the decoration of this table.

Those pouring were Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. J. Cal Schlador, Mrs. Earl Parker and Mrs. E. W. Bray.

A number of Idanha women attended, and made some nice donations. Taken from the little Irish hat was $5.70. Over forty books were donated which brings the number of volumes in the library close to the 900 mark. The club takes this opportunity to thank anyone who contributed and to say that anyone wishing to contribute may bring books, any Tuesday or Thursday from 2-4 p.m. to the library.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Cree and family were in Salem Saturday night to attend a birthday party for their great niece, Sharon Wehrli, who was one year old.

Blarney Stone Motif At Sophomore Party

Saint Patrick's Day furnished the theme for the Sophomore-sponsored school party Friday, for the Hibernians—and all others.

A veritable bower of shamrocks suspended from the ceiling were included among the striking decorations arranged by a committee, headed by Lela Kelly, Pauline Mason, Dolores Poole, Dick Downer and Jackie Jackson.

Refreshments were served from a canopied table covered with a white cloth, on which a huge shamrock was centered. Mammoth daffodils, supplied by Mrs. J. L. Davidson, were flanked by green candles. Cupcakes, frosted white and decorated with green sugar shamrocks, were arranged and decorated by a committee consisting of Alona Daly, Maxine Scott, Donna Cooke, and Hazel Neal.

Under the planning of Elnora Albright, various games were enjoyed. For the superstitious, a Blarney stone and a wishing well were furnished. A feature of the evening's entertainment was a contest in the form of a musical romance, using modern tunes, played by Paula Jane Van Buskirk. Bingo, Pit, Canasta, and other card games were hits of the evening.

Donald Ragsdale was chairman of the music committee. Equipment was installed by Earl Ragsdale, by the courtesy of Porter and Lau.

Patrons for the affair were Mrs. L. O. Kuhlman, Mrs. J. L. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones, and Mr. Putnam. Teachers present were Mrs. Harry Mason, class advisor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bayless, and Mr. Frederic Rugh.
