Alex Builds His Own...

It is building time now as well as growing time, and rare is the man without the itch to take out of the house and go for one chore or the other. In tune with the season, I'm trying to use this space for a spell to provide aid and comfort for build-it-ty readers.

So we come to young Alex Ellenbacher, Hungarian born, now a factory hand in New Jersey, and his new house with living room, kitchen, dinette, bath, two bedrooms, full basement, and a large attic in which more bedrooms can be made.

Reader's Digest tells that the house was all built by Alex and his wife with their own hands, except for installation of plumbing, heating, wiring, and application of plaster. They spent $8,600, and have a house appraised at $14,000.

Mr. Ellenbacher was a building greenhorn at the start. How, then, did he even begin?

Dress-Pattern House...

Several times in this column news notes have given on the fact that most retail lumber dealers keep in stock a pile of patterns for the building of all sorts of useful and ornamental objects of wood. These patterns serve the amateur woodworker and builder much as clothing patterns serve the home dressmaker. Most retail lumber dealers sell the patterns. One, No. 910, is for a two-bedroom home.

The Ellenbachers knew where and how to begin after securing Pattern 910, because it told what tools to get, and what materials, with directions on the position of every piece of lumber in the house and on marking and cutting each one. No question of the kind was left unanswered.
The amateur was even told how to buy materials as needed, a package each week or so.

Two years seems to be the average time that such a "build yourself" project takes. In terms of man-hours' cost, the savings over employing contractors and carpenters are no great shakes. The thing is that with Alex, as with other cases I can name, the financial situation was such that it was build themselves in spare time or have no new home at all.

Thus, self-building does not lose jobs and wages for people of the building trades but makes more jobs and wages. Such projects call for some skilled craftsmen at various stages. Without the self-building these calls would not come.

My Own Size...

Most of us must be content with the remodeling of an old house, doing rough work ourselves and employing craftsmen for the fine work, in amateur home building. I've done much of this with book guidance. A neighbor has done as well in making a modern home out of an old house as any amateur may hope to do in building an entirely new home. The cost was considerable, of course, but the results are a house incomparably better than it was when new, 25 years ago.

But there are many patterns on my retail lumber dealer's rack that are just my size. One that I know I can manage is No. 51, for a tool and garden house. With my new basement, I don't want any more tracking dirty tools and garden stuff inside.

And a modern bookcase, No. 42, will follow. These patterns are a pleasure to dream with and fool on. I'll probably butcher the jobs. If so, I'll let you know.

Miss Betty Class, who is employed in Salem spent last week at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carter and family of Sweet Home were Sunday visitors at the Carl Chance home.

"Is it too Late, Doctor?"

SOONER OR LATER, 1 out of every 5 living Americans may ask this question about cancer.

THE answer may be: "Yes...
I'm afraid so..."

But, today, the doctor can say to increasing numbers of cancer victims, "No, it is by no means too late...
There is much that we can do...
In fact, your chances for recovery are good."

This heartening reply of medical science gives us good reason to believe that, as the years go by, the ancient dream of conquering this disease will be realized.

Cancer research supported by the American Cancer Society has already yielded new surgical techniques and improved methods of using x-ray and radium. More recently, research with radio-active isotopes has revealed new facts about cell processes, hormones and certain anti-cancer drugs — thus making possible more effective control of some types of cancer.

Part of the money you donate will support research that may save millions of lives. Give generously—so that sometime in the future doctors may never have to say: "I'm afraid it's too late?"

a style show all by itself... why it's the only car in automotive history to twice receive the Fashion Academy's Gold Medal Award as "Fashion Car of the Year" (and two years in a row, at that!)

It's MR. BIG for size

No other car in Ford's field offers so much hip and shoulder room. The '50 Ford is big and feels big. The minute you take this great car out on the road Here's real evidence of Ford's extraordinary gas economy. In the official AAA supervised Mobilgas Grand Canyon Economy Run, a '50 Ford Six equipped with Overdrive won in its class —the three full-size cars in the low-price field. Low first cost, low operating cost and high resale value mark Ford—V-8 or
