

Details Given Local Public On Hospital

The public will be fully informed as to all details in connection with the proposed Santiam Memorial Hospital, according to Lawrence E. Spraker, chairman of the public relations committee for the coming money-raising campaign for the Santiam Memorial Hospital. The present plan of organizing, financing the building the Santiam Valley hospital has been adopted by the sponsors committee on the advice of those experienced in organizing, financing and planning, and the service of competent hospital architects. There will be no experiments because everything has been tried and tested in other places.

The public relations committee aims to acquaint people with the vital need for hospital facilities, and how our problem may be solved by united community effort. Organizations desiring authorized speakers, please telephone Stayton 4392 or Mill City 2607.

NO QUOTAS

In the coming money-raising campaign, Advisor Barr states "there will be no quotas or assessments for industry, agriculture, business, professions, residential districts, or individuals. That is the old type of money-raising campaign; it stirs resentment and generally results in failure."

"The Barr Method of planning and financing, that is being used so successfully throughout Oregon and a great many western states, is strictly voluntary without coercion. Each corporation, business and individual gives according to the best of its or his ability in order to obtain hospital protection for himself and his family as well as a neighbor. The amount given is kept strictly confidential unless authority is given to publish the amount. Under this plan, instead of arbitrary assessments and compulsion, the spiritual motive, and desire to have adequate modern hospital protection to safeguard the lives and health of the community, will be the basis for one's giving. The community is assured that no person is down for a certain amount of money."

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

The problem of raising the money in order to obtain the Santiam Memorial Hospital is the problem of all who live in this area. A few men do not have the time to solicit others to join as workers in this great humanitarian movement. For this reason the committee issues a call for men to volunteer as workers in the forthcoming money raising campaign. They will be known as sponsors. The appeal is made through the public press. Any men who are in a position to do so are urged to do so.

Organizations Plan Aid Hospital Drive

The sponsors of the Santiam Memorial Hospital money-raising campaign are pleased to note that many organizations, in the area to be served by the new hospital, are planning for memorials and have agreed not to interfere with the volunteer solicitors by running a counter campaign to raise money from the individual members of their organizations hospital campaign headquarters announced.

All organizations desiring to aid, with memorials, are requested to confer with campaign headquarters with reference to the memorial plan. They have been requested to pay for memorials from funds in their treasuries, or to be raised by special events during the coming 18-month period.

The plan of the present campaign is, that the volunteer workers solicit all citizens in the area to be served by the hospital and that those who are in a position to do so subscribe directly to the hospital building fund instead of giving through an organization. Each person who can do so should be a member of the hospital. A special request is made of organizations that no shows, dances, or magazine sale solicitations take place for the purpose of raising money for the hospital until after the hospital campaign is over and then only with the approval of the Santiam Memorial Hospital board of directors.

Roy R. Hewitt Supported by Ex-Gov. Maw

Herbert Maw, governor of the state of Utah in 1948, Friday evening in the Salem Armory delivered to those assembled an inspiring address wherein he asked voters able to do so to support Roy R. Hewitt, U. S. Representative candidate for the First Congressional district.

Governor Maw, a personal acquaintance of Mr. Hewitt, stated "It is a cowardly thing to do when a man's record, ability or integrity, cannot be questioned to conduct a whispering campaign of knock and smear in the hope to create lack of confidence in one who has long and faithfully, at great personal sacrifice, served the folks."

"Knock and smear campaigns are encouraging in that they indicate that the corrupt, the liars and the unclean are frightened and have retreated to their last resort."

"Roy R. Hewitt, candidate for Congress is the author of the State Government, for many years adopted for use in the public schools of Oregon; a co-author of the Outline of Oregon Government used in the institutions of higher learning of the State, and well known column writer. He is a man of unquestioned ability, loyalty and integrity; and as such, all who know him and his party presents him to the consideration of all voters who despise smear and knock."

Mr. Maw urged voter support for all candidates of ability and integrity running for office November 7th.

Quinton Lee Finley, 13, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Tucker of Idanha, sustained fatal injuries Sunday, at 10 a.m., near his home in Idanha, when a logging-boom pole fell on him as he and two other children played about the boom pole and the guy-wires supporting it.

Work Begins On New Road For Canyon

Mr. Cosmo Gilo, grading contractor on the Ochoco highway near Prineville, Oregon, last week got the green light from the State Highway Commission to go ahead with the grading work on the Stout Creek-Mill City section of the North Santiam secondary highway in and near Mill City.

The project calls for the grading of 8.77 miles of the highway beginning at the site of the old state fish hatchery on Stout creek about 1.4 miles west of Mehama and extending easterly on the Marion county side of the North Santiam river on new and modern alignment to a connection with the improved portion of the route in Mill City. At Mehama the new grade lies about one fourth mile north of the present road, crosses the Little North Santiam (often referred to as the Little North Fork) at a point about one mile down stream from Taylor's Grove and thence bears in a generally south-easterly direction along the north side of and well above the Santiam to Mill City.

The grading work is to provide a 38-foot roadway constructed to modern highway standards and is to be completed by midsummer of 1951. A portion of the grading work consists of a cut approximately 98,996 yards long and in places some 48 feet in depth.

Mr. Gilo's bid of $284,020.00 stood as the low bid on the grading work. Contractor Gilo brings to the scene of operations his 35 years of grading work experience and an array of heavy equipment, which includes a two and one-half yard capacity power

W. C. Hollinshead Manages Ambulance

W. C. Hollinshead, owner and operator of the Mill City Taxi Service announced this week that he now owns and manages the Mill City Ambulance Service.

Mr. Hollinshead indicated that since Mill City has not in the past and cannot at this time furnish free ambulance service to the public, but does need such service desperately, then those using the Mill City Ambulance service are the logical ones to turn to for support.

The new policy outlined on ambulance service is: Those needing the services of an ambulance call the Mill City telephone operator and give the information requested by her.

Mr. Hollinshead, manager of the Mill City Ambulance Service, following the above policy, instructs the telephone operator to require from the caller his name and address and the names and addresses of those needing the ambulance, and if these latter names and addresses are not given, then the caller must agree, personally, to pay for the ambulance service.

"The Mill City Ambulance Service desires to serve the public in a fair and prompt manner, but it can not do so on a charity basis," Mr. Hollinshead stated.

"Many times an excited witness to the scene of an accident calls an unneeded ambulance or doctor to the scene and thus causes a waste of time and money as well as probably depriving others of service," Hollinshead explained.

Firemen and other trained personnel continue actual operation of the well-equipped ambulance.

Citizens Raise Campaign Fund

The entire cost of organizing and conducting the forthcoming money-raising campaign for the proposed Santiam Memorial hospital has been advanced by a group of the sponsors of the hospital according to Gil Schachtsick, treasurer of the Santiam Memorial hospital corporation that has been organized under the laws of the state of Oregon. Mr. Schachtsick said: "All monies subscribed by the public during the coming campaign will be used in building and equipping the hospital."

"If, in the opinion of the board of directors, sufficient subscriptions are not obtained to justify proceeding with the hospital project, all subscriptions obtained in the hospital financing campaign will be cancelled and all money paid thereon will be returned to the subscriber."

"No volunteer worker, member of the board of directors, officer of the corporation, or any other person receives any commission or percentage for raising funds in the hospital campaign."

"The subscribers to the hospital fund will never be liable for any debts or assessments. This is a provision of the by-laws of the corporation."

Benefit Movie Nets Womans Club $150

Gates—The benefit movie picture, "Christopher Columbus" shown at the Mill City theatre, Thursday evening, Oct. 12, and sponsored by the Gates Woman's club was a success beyond expectations. The net profit after all expenses, rental of the theatre, cost of the film and federal taxes were paid was $148.45. Donations received after the show from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Richards, who were unable to attend increased that amount to over $150. There is now $242.65 in the fireplace fund for the community house which the ladies of the Gates club are striving to complete.

Mrs. Albert Millsap who pledged to raise the cost of a fireplace, aside from the general building fund, wishes to express her thanks and gratitude to Robert Veness, who made it possible to increase the fund by giving the use of his theatre; to the people of Mill City, Mehama, Lyons and Gates who helped by their attendance; to the Lyons and Gates schools who sent four bus loads of pupils to the matinee (80 from Lyons and 165 from Gates) and members of the faculties attending; to Norma and Lorena Devine, who added to the evening's entertainment with their music and to those members of the Gates Woman's club who assisted by selling tickets and who helped at the theatre.
