

Christian Endeavor Rally Held Here Last Week

The Christian Endeavor rally held here at the First Christian church had its emphasis on the work of missionaries in Africa with a film and a brief message by Rev. Carl Gelder of Salem. Dick Williams provided a musical number with his accordion. It was announced that the union-convention would be on November 4th in Lebanon at the Christian church. Registration fee will be $1.25, and this will include a banquet ticket. At the executive meeting officers for the next year were nominated. They are: Mary Lou McCaully of Albany, president; Richard Osburn of Lebanon, vice president; Patricia Cree of Mill City, secretary; and Janet Young of Crabtree, treasurer. Chairman to be appointed will be Glenn Nofziger of Albany, publicity; Richard Osburn of Lebanon, lookout; Dorothy Whites of Lebanon, recreation; Tom Shelton of NCC, song leader, and the pastor counselors will be Glen Johnston of Crabtree and Lynton Ellwell of Lebanon. There are still a few chairmen to be named and they will be announced at the convention in Lebanon. The installation of officers will be at the convention also. Refreshments were served to seventy young people from Albany, Harrisburg, Lebanon, Crabtree, and Mill City, by the Mill City group.

By MRS J. H. JOHNSTON
Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Johnston went to eastern and central Oregon on a combined business and vacation trip this week. They planned to be home by Thursday night or Friday. George and Shirley stayed nights with the Bassetts while their parents were away. Lots of large flocks of geese have been seen flying south in the past several days—a usual sign that winter isn't too far away. Mrs. Paul Scheiwiek and Mrs. Jack Johnston were Mill City business callers Tuesday afternoon. Alvin Scheiwiek has been out of school with a cold for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wright and family have rented the house recently vacated by the C. R. West family in Fox Valley. The Wrights came from near Salem. He is employed at the Detroit dam. Mrs. Jack Christensen and children with Mrs. Ernest Garajo were Mill City callers Tuesday afternoon. There is a fascination in fear. There is a vortex that surrounds the concept of doom. When there is stark terror about, men magnify it and rush toward it. Those who have lived under the shelter of a wishful idealism are most prone to rush into utter pessimism when the shelter falls. No terror is greater than the unknown, except the terror of the half-seen.
