NEED FOR DOCTORS is shown in headlines as Medical Corpsmen in Korea start wounded men on jeep journey to surgeons at field hospital. President Truman's proposed health program provides federal funds to train enough doctors to meet America's medical needs in peace or war.

In spite of a down pour of rain and the high winds Friday night, a large crowd attended the annual bazaar given by the ladies of the Gates Womans club, in the recreation rooms of the high school. The sale of fancy work, aprons, good eats and different forms of money-making entertainment netted the club a profit of $119.20, which will be added to the building fund. Mrs. Edmund Davis held the winning number and was presented a large cake and Mrs. Ed Kadine drew a chairback set. The local cub scouts took this opportunity to realize a nice little sum from the sale of home-made candy.

The next project to be undertaken by the members of the club will be an antique show and the display of a large collection of interesting articles from other lands. A program will also be arranged for that evening. A small admission charge will be made. The date and place will be announced later. Articles from other places in the canyon are being solicited for display and anyone having antiques or other items are requested to get in contact with Mrs. Harold Wilson or Mrs. Hollis Turnidge.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
 By C. WILSON HARDER

North and South, Republican and Democrat, have been successful in getting passed in the Senate what is known as the Wherry amendment. That, as part of the Defense Production Act, should result in a fair distribution of available civilian goods.

And as Senators Wherry (R., Neb.) and Sparkman (D., Ala.) pushed for passage, they were supported by organized independent business - - inspired silently by the reproachful ghosts of 325,000 small businesses that needlessly perished in World War II.

This new bill will require that small independent businesses distributing civilian goods be given a fair share of the available supply, based on a representative period before June 24, 1950.

If the House passes this measure, it will correct one of the glaring oversights of the past when monopoly owned or controlled outlets received the available supplies, and independent business was left on a limb.

This one victory has far-reaching reverberations. Prior to this, the talk was entirely of voluntary allocations, tied in with suspension of anti-trust laws. In other words, Congressmen were told "the situation can be handled by gentlemen's agreements."

But Senators privately say they are becoming wary of these "gentlemen's agreements" - - would like to be sure of what "gentlemen" are involved in such agreements. Many feel that they, like little Red Riding Hood, found out just in the nick of time that grandma was a wolf.

Congressmen, eyeing November elections, are aghast at some press releases sent out by government-hired press agents.

They shudder and hope much will never be published in newspapers read by tax-conscious constituents.

For example, the current release from the Office of Information, Economic Cooperation Administration, commonly known as the Marshall Plan, tells how American tax dollars are being used to modernize hotels in Europe, including such nations as Portugal, Ireland, Luxemburg, Sweden, Turkey, etc.

With brash pride ECA Release No. 1660 tells how Marshall Plan dollars have installed more bathrooms, changed rooms from double beds to twin beds, air-conditioned ballrooms, made other changes in these hotels. Thus American dollars voted to stop starvation are used to create luxury abroad.

As everyone knows, a lot of improvements are needed in American hotels.

But after taxes American hotels don't have the funds. And while Europe's hotels get free American dollars, American owners often can't get low cost loans.

Things like this are worrying Congressmen.

They feel this type of information, if read by tax-ridden voters, will be reflected in November voting. There may be some grounds for their fears.

Many Washingtonians are quoting Nicolai Lenin, founder of the Soviet Union.

He wrote: "Germany will arm itself out of existence." (Has happened, they say.) "Britain will expand itself out of existence." (Has happened, they say.) "America will spend itself out of existence." (Is it happening, they ask.)

The American Legion Auxiliary met last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Guy Moore in Detroit. Final plans were made for the election dinner November 7 in the Home Ec room in the high school building. Creamed turkey and biscuits will be served. Price for adult plates will be $1.00, children 50c. Dinner will be served from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. For those who do not care for a meal, pie and coffee will also be available. There will also be a bazaar.

The North Santiam Willing Workers club met last Wednesday afternoon in the Canyon Aid room in Detroit. Boxes of clothing donated for emergency relief in the locality were unboxed, sorted and hung on hangers. Articles to be repaired were taken home by the members. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jim Geibler. Meeting of November 8 will be with Mrs. O. J. White in Detroit.

Former Mehama Resident Leaves For Greece

By JEAN ROBERTS

Ray L. Stout of Portland, a former Mehama man and brother of Luther Stout of this area, will leave for Athens, Greece, in November to build and place in operation a complete electric power system covering the entire country of Greece.

Mr. Stout who has been with the Pacific Light and Power Co. of Portland for many years, was selected for the job by the Ebasco Services Inc. of New York. The enterprise is part of the Marshall plan for rehabilitating Europe.

Greece which is approximately one-half the size of Oregon and has over 7,000,000 population has no modern electric power system. It is comparable to this country of 50 years ago.

American Legion and Auxiliary sponsored dance in the school auditorium Saturday night. Prizes for the best costumes went to Forrest Etters, Mrs. Quincy Smith, Miss Marilyn Lovelace, Geneva Crenshaw, Frankie Payne and Arnold Snyder.

Sunday guests in the Henry Hiebert home were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weinsz and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Warkintin and family, all of Dallas.

Mrs. Russell Hoyt went Sunday to Salem Memorial hospital for two or three weeks of treatment. Mrs. Al Cokenour is teaching second grade in her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Vollman of Willamina were weekend guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Lady and family.

Nurse-teacher conferences are being held in the Detroit grade school Wednesday and Thursday of this week in preparation to the coming of the county doctor for examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stoll are moving this week to the apartment above the IGA store, recently vacated by the Lloyd Girod family.

Mrs. Dale Davis left the hospital last Sunday to be with her mother-in-law for a week before returning to her home at the CCC camp in Idanha. Her baby, being underweight is still in the incubator.

Lee Hopson Sr. stepped into what he thought to be a puddle of rain water Sunday morning, but what in reality was hot water. It scalded his feet and legs quite badly, so he is not able to work at present. He was treated in Mill City and returned home. His mother is visiting him and his family for awhile.
