

FOX VALLEY

By MRS. J. H. JOHNSTON
Carroll Lawrence of Toppenish, Wash., was a business caller in Fox Valley and Lyons Monday. We don't have a corner on all of the winter weather, according to Mr. Lawrence, who stated that when he left his ranch near Toppenish Saturday, his stock cattle were wading around in about 18 inches of snow. The earliest heavy snow for that locality in many years.

Perry Clippell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clippell at Fox Valley, was transferred to an army base in Washington recently. The transfer makes it possible to be with his family in Stayton weekends.

Mrs. Floyd Bassett was a Mill City visitor Saturday.

The local phone service has been severely hampered by the wind since last Thursday night. Workmen got the lines and poles reset Monday. On some lines the upset poles were numerous.

Mr. Christensen and son of Duluth, Minn., who visited at the Jack Christensen home here a few days, left Wednesday of last week on their return trip to Minnesota. The Minnesota folks were quite favorably impressed with our Oregon country.

Frank mill she found another tree across the road. The children walked to there and she brought them back to the bus so they were on their way without a great deal of delay.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Randall left Saturday for Oakridge, Ore., where Mr. Randall has accepted the position of city recorder and city attorney. The guest ranch is closed and in charge of a caretaker until opening next spring.

Spending the weekend of the 21st at the Steve Dark home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell McLaughlin and Percy Robertson from Salem. Additional dinner guests Sunday included Raymond Higgins and Ralph Smith, also of Salem.

Eight Salem high school teachers were dinner guests at the Elkhorn guest ranch Sunday. Those present were Miss Walgamott, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Haague, Miss Ola Clark, Miss Beryl Holt, Mrs. Creech, Miss Helen Lane and Miss Ada Ross.

Dr. Norman L. Dodd of Salem recently purchased a tract of land for a summer home from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Ray and family drove to Prineville Saturday where they were the weekend guests of Mrs. Ray's sister and family.

Recent callers at the Steve Dark home were Bud Coleman, Virgil Shaw and Bob Schultz, all of Portland.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Randall last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Haag of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Speerstra and family, Dr. and Mrs. McGill, and Mr. and Mrs. John Graham all of Salem, were dinner guests at the Elkhorn guest ranch Sunday. Additional guests were Mr. Casozich, county assessor of Astoria and Henry Pertzoff who is connected with the Willamette Building Supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Myers had as their dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Randall Thursday evening.

Snow has covered the foothills surrounding Elkhorn for the first time this season the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bickett and family were callers Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Billington of Seio.

ELKHORN

By ELSIE MYERS
Travel in the Elkhorn district was halted for awhile Friday morning due to the wind storm the night before. The Mill City school bus driver was the first to encounter a tree across the road. He walked to the Bill Bickett home for help. Mr. Bickett and E. A. Newsome returned with him to clear the road while Mrs. Bickett took her car to pick up the children. Just this side of the Freres

OUT OF GODFREY'S TEABAG

This weather lately is certainly something. One minute it's stifling—the next you're freezing. Ever notice how women walk around on these nippy days in flimsy stuff and not seem cold? Well one of them told me her secret the other day. Yes sir, this is it. She said her hat was by Lily Dache, her suit by Jacques Fath—and her snuggles by Long-John!

Television is certainly different all over the country. In New York if something goes wrong you get snow on the screen; in Virginia you get ham and gravy.

A friend of ours had a new English butler in the household, and the first afternoon he served tea to some guests. Our hostess complimented him on the appearance of the tea table but quietly remarked that there was only a small amount of lemon and cream. The butler drew himself up and said he had done that on purpose. "I always thought Americans took their tea straight."

One of my friends has just gone into business for himself. Quite an undertaking, these business ventures—and he's really gone into this in a big way. Even went so far as to buy two new cars and everything! Only he has to go halves on everything. One of the cars belongs to him—and the other to the finance company.

Honest to goodness, some of the politicians really have a soft job. They work just so long—and before you know it they're off on vacation. I'm beginning to think some of them spend more time in Florida than an orange crop.

MEHAMA

By JEAN ROBERTS
The Ladies Aid have announced the date of Nov. 17 for their forthcoming bazaar and dinner. Sale of bazaar merchandise will begin at 3 p.m., with Mrs. Winnie Branche and Mrs. Meral Teeters in charge.

A baked ham dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. with Mrs. Ray Roberts, Mrs. Keith Phillips and Mrs. Harry Monroe on the food committee. The dinner will sell for $1.00 per plate for adults and 50c for children.

Proceeds from the bazaar and dinner will be used to operate the Mehama Community church.

The power shortage last weekend caused considerable discomfort to Mehama people. Accustomed to depending on electricity for a number of things many people were without water, food, or heat the 12 hours the power was disrupted.

The tire shop was unable to pump gasoline or blow up a tire.

Eight youngsters were entertained with a Hallowe'en party at the home of Janis Wilson Saturday. A fish pond games and party favors were enjoyed by the young guests. Those attending were: Willow Phillips, Linda Monroe, Diane Wallen, Gerry Roberts, Leroy and Ronald Fender and small hostess, Janis Wilson.

Home Extension unit will meet Friday at the clubhouse for an all day meeting. A demonstration of "foods for entertaining" will be given in the forenoon with a business meeting held after lunch. Pot luck dinner at noon.

First Bluebird meeting was held Friday at the Women's clubhouse with 18 girls attending. The Bluebirds are an auxiliary of Campfire girls sponsored by the Women's club. Mrs. Ray Roberts is leader.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude for the kindness and help of our friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement.
