FOX VALLEY

The Richard Wright family with a nephew, returned home Sunday night after spending a week in Salem. Mrs. Wright worked in a cannery through the week. The cannery needed extra help to finish orders by Thanksgiving and had called for workers.

Several entries of turkeys by Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn Knox at the McMinnville Turkey show Nov. 17 resulted in their stock winning five championship awards. The Knox's marketed three truck loads of nice live birds last week which finished sales of their 1950 crop.

Mrs. Hugh Johnston was in Salem Monday having some dental work done.

Over a hundred and fifty cars, trucks and pickups filled the highway side parking and all available room elsewhere Saturday, for the auction sale at the G. Paul Johnston farm in Fox Valley. The weather was fair Saturday after the four preceding days of heavy rain. Dairy cows and heifers brought satisfactory prices. The WSCS ladies served the noon lunch to a large crowd and food sales netted around $70.00 for the church treasury.

The Johnston family are spending a time looking for a suitable location. They left on their trip early Tuesday.

Mr. Gene Hall formerly of Klamath Falls was a business caller in Fox Valley Monday. The Hall family are moving here this week. He will work at the Detroit dam.

A number of Fox Valley friends of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen, attended the silver wedding party in Lyons honoring Mr. and Mrs. Allen. They received a gift in silver from relatives and friends.

You Trim This Tree with ICING!

Christmas-time will soon be here, and the traditional symbol . . . the Christmas tree . . . can come to your table in the form of a tall, light layer cake, echoed eight times in molds of glistening gelatin! The easy, 1-2-3 recipe below, a simple icing, and a new set of ten tree-shaped aluminum pans are all you need to prepare this delightful combination of dessert and decoration.

Mirro Christmas Tree Cake

Time: 25-30 min.      Temp. 350° F.
 1/2 cup shortening      1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cups sugar      1 cup milk
 3 cups sifted cake flour      1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
 3 teaspoons baking powder      4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

1. Cream shortening until light.
2. Add sugar slowly and continue creaming.
3. Alternately add sifted dry ingredients and milk combined with lemon extract, beating hard after each addition.
4. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.
5. Bake in greased and floured Mirro aluminum Christmas Tree pans.
6. Tint your favorite frosting with vegetable coloring. (If pressed for time, use the cake-mix you prefer.)

For the Christmas Tree gelatin molds, simply follow manufacturer's directions, combining colors and canned fruit salad to suit your taste.

Six-Week Tests

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week have been spent on six-week tests. After they are finished, all the students will need the four-day vacation which will follow because of Thanksgiving.

New Records

The GAA spent a total of five dollars for new records this week. They will be used for school dances, the dances at noon period in the recreation room, and the junior-senior dance class.

Othello

Some of the dramatic students at the University of Oregon are presenting "Othello" a Shakespearian play at the new theatre building on the campus at Eugene. The admission for the play is 25c. A number of students are planning to see "Othello" on December 9.

Twirp Season Ends

The ten days of "Girl Chases Boy" is drawing to an end Saturday at midnight. If the girls have not caught their "secret beau" by now, they will have to wait another year to "show their likings"!!!

Christmas Formal Planned

The annual Girls' Athletic Association Christmas formal is rapidly taking shape. Marlene Tickle, president of the GAA has appointed her committees.

The dance will be held in the high school auditorium on the evening of Dec. 16, 1950 from 9 to 12. Records will furnish the music. All student body members are invited to attend.
