Fading Sunlight Helps Accidents

Deadliest time of the day in Oregon traffic is late afternoon and early evening, records compiled by Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry reveal.

Street and highway killings quickens in pace at 3 p.m., peaks between 5 and 7, and reaches a secondary high between 10 p.m. and midnight, according to a study of all fatal mishaps for the first six months of last year.

Safety men say fading daylight during the winter months is an important factor in the death upsurge of the late afternoon hours. Add winter's frequent storm conditions plus homebound pedestrians, school children, and motorists and the odds climb in favor of accidents, officials point out.

To beat the hazards, drivers are urged to switch on full headlight beams—not parking lights—whenever visibility drops to 500 feet or less, make sure windshield wipers and defrosters work as they should, and take darkness into account by reducing speed accordingly.

Over half of the 128 fatal accidents recorded in the first six months of 1950 took place in fading light or darkness.

man presided over the meeting with Mrs. Cleave O'Neil secretary. Roll call was answered by "Tips for caring for gift plants." Discussion of successes and failures of 1950 by Laura Neal. An interesting discussion on caring for shrubs and perennials was also held. Entertainment was in charge of Helen McClurg who furnished two games, "Mixed Bouquet and Hidden Flowers." Arrangements and refreshments were furnished by Lola Lambert and Laura Neal. Present for the afternoon was Mesdames John McClurg, Percy Hiatt, Hugh Johnston, Ofville Downing, Mike Fink, Merrill Brassfield, Chester Roy, Alex Kuiken, Oscar Naue, Cleave O'Neil, Otto Weidman, Clyde Bressler, George Huffman, Lynn Lambert, John Neal and Mrs. Cora Jenner, Mrs. Luther Stout of Mehama, Mrs. George Westenhouse and Mrs. Dell Westenhouse of Scio were guests of the afternoon.

Mrs. John Prideaux and little daughter Suzanne have gone to Harbor, Oregon, for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Joy.

Mrs. Pat Lyons was hostess for the meeting of the Altar Society of the St. Patrick Catholic church held at her home Thursday evening. Discussion and plans were made to have a series of bingo parties through out the winter months. The first party is to be held Sunday evening, January 28, with the proceeds to go toward the building of a hall. Present for the meeting were Mesdames John Jungwirth, Herman Free, Clarence Jungwirth, Bob Free, Mike Fink, Lloyd Free, Phillip Pietrok, Francis Mullins, L. P. Mullins, Father Schneider and the hostess Mrs. Lyons.

FORD TRUCKS for '51

feature POWER PILOT ECONOMY

They're Thrifty!

Everybody knows Ford Trucks last longer, which means economy for years ahead. Everybody knows Ford power, in the industry's only choice of V-8 or Six, packs many more ton-miles into a working day, too!

The Ford Truck Power Pilot is a simpler, fully-proven way of getting the most power from the least gas. The Power Pilot automatically meters and fires the right amount of gas, at precisely the right instant, to match constantly changing speed, load and power requirements. Unlike conventional systems, the Power Pilot uses only one control instead of two, yet is designed to synchronize firing twice as accurately. You can use regular gas . . . you get no-knock performance. Only Ford in the low-price field gives you Power Pilot Economy!
