Campaign For Lighted Field Moves Ahead

ested in furthering the cause of a lighted play field in the Canyon Tuesday night in the Mill City fire hall embarked with resolute hearts on benefit ticket sales and various fund raising campaigns with an eye on the acquiring in the near future of = lighting facilities for the Mill City grade school athletic field.

Russell Kelly, chairman of the lighted play field campaign, opened discussion on the problems aired by representatives of the social groups of the canyon.

Mill City Fire Chief Arlo Tuers expressed a desire for assurance from responsible quarters that once the athletic field is lighted those and their successors making possible the lighting improvement on the Mill City grade school athletic field will be allowed the use of the field provided they defray the operational expenses on the lights and their activities do not conflict with the play schedules of the Mill City grade and high schools.

Chairman Kelly referred Fire Chief Tuer's inquiry to Donald Sheythe, hairman of the board of directors of Mill City school district 129-J. Mr. Sheythe expressed the feeling that he could see no objection to the use of the lighted field by the softball players, etc., as long as the operational expenses are properly met, having in mind that a lighted athletic field will benefit directly the school system.

In the course of the discussion on the cost of operation of the proposed athletic field lighting system, R. L. Stewart, district manager of Mountain States Power company, indicated that it would cost roughly $2.00 per hour's use for power for the proposed lighting system. Burton Boroughs estimated that during the course of an evening's lighting one light bulb would fail and need replacement at a cost of some $4. In an interview on the problem of citizen use of the lighted athletic field on school grounds, Mill City high principal Harrison Caughey stated that "As long as the bills for lighting are paid and their scheduled play does not conflict with that of the schools' then they can use the field."
