MEHAMA

By JEAN ROBERTS

The various women's organizations of Mehama have swung into action to make April a busy and memorable month.

White elephants have appeared miraculously about town, skirting both sides of the club house door and ogling from almost every pole, proclaiming a white elephant sale on April 19. A dinner by the Ladies Aid will also accompany the sale.

At the bi-monthly meeting of the women's club a pie social was planned for Sat. April 14. This will take place about 8:00 p.m. and will be over early. Funds from the pie social will be used for building material for a home for Bert Parsons.

The Mehama home extension unit is working on a booth for representation at the county festival on April 21. Planning exhibition of the work of the ACWW committee is Mrs. Harry Monroe, chairman. At present she is busy contacting all county women who correspond with those in foreign lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor are celebrating a Silver wedding anniversary this Sunday with an open house at the women's club hall.

Although the usual fire season is still in the future some excitement was felt late one evening this week, with a report of a fire in the Ercill Wilson logging up the North Fork. Word was phoned from Elkhorn that a fire was visible and picturing several thousand gallons of gasoline and a new cat going up in flames, a crew was quickly located and dispatched to the scene.

The fire found was a "warming fire" set by the cutting crew that day, and still burning in a pitchy stump.

Gerald Branch was called to report for service on April 6. He was last heard from at Denver, Colorado, enroute to an airbase in Texas.

New officers for the women's club were elected last week. They are: Mrs. Rose Coffman, president; Mrs. Gladys Cowdry, vice president; Hattie Golliet, secretary, and Meral Teeters, treasurer.

Home extension met Friday. Mrs. Marjorie White, county extension agent, talked on family, law and business. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Winnee Branch, Mrs. Mae Patton, and Mrs. June Longfellow. New officers of the home extension elected are Mrs. Meral Teeters, chairman; Mrs. Gladys Cowdry, vice chairman; Mrs. Florian Roten, secretary-treasurer.

Put out your campfire before you leave the woods.

"Tell'em ALL about Reddy Kilowatt, he says

... Gosh, I can't draw up an ad like that!"

Why, if I was to draw up an ad on EVERYTHING Reddy Kilowatt does I'd have to have this whole issue! Golly, you can't sell Reddy's complete story in an ad space this size! But if I could break everything down into separate ads then I could do it! First, for instance, I could draw one up telling you people how his service charge represents one of the best bargains in your family budget.

I could tell you how he washes and irons your clothes, cooks your meals, and brings you light, heat and entertainment... all at a cost of only a few cents a day!

Then I could draw up an ad showing who actually owns Reddy Kilowatt! I could show that people like you and me—a clerk, a housewife, a farmer or a service station operator are the ones who own little Reddy!

Yes, sir... I couldn't begin to tell all about Reddy Kilowatt in just one ad! That's one assignment I can't tackle! But if I had just a few words to sum him up, I'd just say, "He does so MUCH... for so LITTLE... that's Reddy Kilowatt, your dependable, low cost, Electric Servant!"
