Rainbow Order Vests Lela Kelly

Installation of officers for Acacia Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was held in the Masonic hall at Stayton, Wednesday evening, May 16. Lela Kelly of Mill City was installed as worthy advisor.

The installing officers officiating were installing officer, Karleen Drager of Turner; marshal, Patricia Miller of Scio; chaplain, Shirley Henries of Turner; musician, Ardith Jones of Mill City; and recorder, Dorene Borst of Jefferson.

Additional girls from Mill City installed in offices were: Donna Cooke, charity; Dorothy Downer, immortality (color station); Pat Davidson and Vera Loucks, drill leader and assistant; Betsy Kriever, musician; and Pat Cree, who was elected treasurer for the year.

As Lela Kelly stood before the altar for her obligation, a vocal solo, "I Love Life", was sung by Mrs. Donald Sheythe of Mill City, accompanied by Ardith Jones. The crowning ceremony was performed by the Santiam chapter of DeMolay boys who presented Lela with a lovely colonial nose-gray and a large bouquet of white snapdragons. She responded by pinning a boutonniere on each of the boys.

The new worthy advisor gave a brief talk, explaining that her theme for the term would be "Harmony", which was carried out in decorations. Introduction of her family followed, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly and Johnny, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill and Mrs. W. J. Robinson, who made corsages for all the officers.

Each installing officer was presented with a small gift by the new worthy advisor, as was the mother advisor, Mrs. Wm. B. Shuey of Mill City, who, in turn, had gifts for both the incoming and out-going advisors. Karleen also received her white Bible from the assembly, as is the custom.

Under "Good of the Order", Ardith Jones, who was recently appointed grand musician of the grand assembly of Oregon, was introduced. Mr. Kelly also presented his daughter with a beautiful maple gavel which he had made.

An impressive degree was presented by the Mill City Rainbow Girls. A huge bouquet of yellow rose-buds was presented to Lela by Donna Cooke, who tied it with ribbon in the seven rainbow colors. A trio from Marilyn chapter of Eastern Star sang a number. This was followed by presentation of a gift by Lois Scott, worthy matron. Geo. Huffman of Lyons presented a gift from Mill City Lodge No. 180, A. F. & A. M. Many other lovely gifts were received from friends and relatives.

Refreshments were served at a beautifully-appointed table in the dining-room following the ceremonies, which were open to the public. In charge of serving was Wana Miller and a group of girls from Scio. Lucille Cox of Stayton was responsible for the table decoration, and Mrs. Sam Drager of Turner was in charge of the coffee. Mrs. D. B. Hill presided at the punch-bowl and Mrs. W. J. Robinson at the coffee-urn.

For her installation, Lela Kelly wore a ballerina-length formal with yellow nylon net skirt over green net, the bodice being of green lace over yellow nylon, with a stole of the net fastened at the waist with a small yellow orchid. Gold slippers and chain necklace completed the ensemble. Joy Headsick of Stayton, master councilor of the DeMolay, escorted her to the refreshment table.
