Don't Let Scrap Waste Away, Sell It to Aid Defense, Farmers Urged

Will steel output be increased? That depends to a great extent on whether farmers move their iron and steel scrap promptly, says the Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Thousands of tons of scrap—vital material in steelmaking—are idle in junk piles on farms, and some of it is wasting away, says the Committee. If farmers promptly sell this material to local scrap collectors, it will be moved to steel mills or foundries for the production of defense equipment and essential civilian items. All scrap is urgently needed—whether a few pounds, a few bushels or a ton or more.

Farmers will help themselves by the sale of the scrap and will help strengthen the United States. Each day about 2,000 carloads of purchased scrap are required by steel mills and foundries. The mills are operating at a record high rate and using more scrap than ever before.

Old tools, wornout parts of tractors, trucks, cultivators and other implements; broken and discarded pieces of metal and other scrap should be taken to town and sold right away to the local scrap dealer. Every pound of scrap which comes back to steel mills helps to make two pounds of new steel, on the average.

If the scrap is unusually bulky, preventing its easy transportation by the farmer, the scrap dealer can be called or the local farm agent can be asked to work out an arrangement.

"Farms are one of the big sources of scrap," says the Committee. "Never have farmers had a greater stake in the nation's steel output."

"More scrap from farms means more steel. This vital material must not be allowed to waste away. There is no place for waste in the United States today."

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph.D.

The popular ukulele is not a native Hawaiian musical instrument as is usually believed. It is a German instrument and was popular in that country in the twelfth century, according to the records of the Royal Library at Stuttgart. Later it was introduced into Portugal, from which country it was carried by sailors to the Hawaiian Islands. Its popularity among the Hawaiians is of very recent date, and they named it "ukulele," which means, in their language, "to jump like a flea."

him and cut his hip. He was hospitalized in Monmouth when infection developed in the injury. Mrs. Cline and son spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tilmon Raines while her husband was in the hospital. She plans returning home Tuesday of this week and hopes that Cline will be sufficiently recovered so that he can accompany her to DeLake. Mrs. Raines and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Topfer and children of Stayton were guests at the Cline home when Bud was hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hutcheson, taking two of their saddlehorses, left the last of the week for the rodeo in Prineville. They were scheduled in the parade.

There will be a meeting at the school house, Thursday, August 23, at 1:30 in the afternoon for the purpose of organizing a home demonstration unit. All ladies interested are invited. Mrs. Marjorie White of the Marion County home demonstration department will assist in the organization and election of officers. Regular meetings will start in September and will include instructions in sewing, cooking, upholstery and many other interesting subjects. Classes are free and anyone interested may join the unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mitchell of North Richland, Washington, were guests this week at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Garrison.
