Forest Products Market Report

Limited information from State Farm Foresters indicates little change in Willamette Valley markets for farm forest products during the week ending August 20, according to the weekly farm forest products market report, prepared from data supplied by State Farm Foresters to the OSC Extension Service and other informa

Douglas Fir Logs:

Demand continued good for secondgrowth Douglas fir sawlogs during the past week. Offers by valley mills have ranged from $32 to $42 a thousand board feet for logs 12 feet or more in length since the $2 advance early this month. Most sales recently have been made within the $35 to $38 spread. Eight-foot logs have brought mostly $18 to $20 a cord or $30 to $38 a thousand.

Old-growth Douglas fir have continued at $32 to $40 a thousand for No. 3 grade, while No. 1's brought up to $60 at valley mills. Plywood peelers held at $80 to $110.

Pulpwood:

Leading pulp mills are out of the market for Douglas fir pulpwood. Stock piles are large, and storage space is mostly filled. Plants still in the market have paid around $17 a cord for unpeeled fir, spruce and hemlock wood.

Poles & Piling:

Peeled poles have recently ranged from 9 cents a foot for 20-foot lengths up to 45 cents for poles 60 feet or more in length. Barkies were usually 2 to 3 cents a foot less than peeled poles. Outlets for short poles were limited. Piling prices were un-changed at 15 to 42 cents a foot, depending on length. Hardwood Logs:

Mills sawing valley hardwoods have been paying $26 to $40 a thousand for alder, $30 to $45 for ash and maple, and $24 to $28 for cottonwood. There has been some outlet for oak at $35 a thousand and chinquapin at $37.50 in the southern part of the valley.

Other Forest Products:

Harvesting of conifer seeds is nderway in Western Oregon. Douglas fir cones are bringing $2.50 a ack, and white fir $3. Hemlock and Port Orford cedar are $5 a bushel, while Ponderosa pine brought $1 a
