Detroit Carnival Proves Success

Detroit — Detroit high school carnival Friday evening of last week proved a very successful affair in spite of the conflicting deer season. While crowds were not so large as previously, the money flowed freely and the general spirit was good.

Grade school girls, dressed in dark blue and wearing turbans, sold candy among the crowd. The booths attracted much business during the evening; at some booths there were waiting lines. The total receipts were $593.98, and $280 of this went to the high school and $73.85 to the grade school.

Dart prizes were won by Stanley Whipple, the mens prize, an automatic reel; Marlene White, womens division, a deer head planter; John Davis, a traveling kit, the high school boys division; Mary Gordon, high school girls division, an overnight case.

The door prize, an electric mantle clock, was won by Brad Humphrey.

Wassam Daughter Wed by Phillips

The nuptials of Miss Marial Wassam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quay M. Wassam to Lloyd N. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust A. Augustson, took place September 29 in the First Presbyterian church in Salem. A reception for the couple was held in the church parlors.

The bride and her parents formerly lived in Mill City. The bride attended the Mill City school, and her father was a Hammond lumber company employee. Wassam gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a candlelight slipper satin frock combined with chantilly lace. A Juliet cap of matching lace and orange blossoms held in place her fingertip veil.

Honor attendant for the bride was her sister, Mrs. Robert Carl Barnett of Anchorage, Alaska, who made the trip to Oregon for her sister's wedding. Mrs. Barnett wore a gold satin jacket dress with small hat of matching satin. Mrs. Quay M. Wassam Jr., and Miss Nell K. Nelson, the bride's other attendants, wore green satin frocks and matching hats. Little Robie Carol Barnett was flower girl.

Brother of the groom, John R. Johnson, was best man. The couple will spend a short vacation in British Columbia.

Detroit Library Position Noted

Detroit — The Detroit Women's civic club met Wednesday evening of last week in the home economics room of the high school. Mrs. Lillie Hellwig, president, conducted the business session.

The library situation was discussed; and Mabel Parker announced that most of the library books have been packed in boxes. It was suggested that they be placed on the shelves at the grade school, if the principal approved. The school library will be open to the public one afternoon each week for a short time. Another proposal was leave them packed until more members were present for a decision on the matter. The idea was tabled for next meeting.

Volunteers for the federation meeting in Salem were sought. No definite decision was made. It was decided that regular meetings be held in the home economics room during the winter months.

Mrs. Hellwig gave a report of her trip through the eastern part of the country. She described and related interesting events of travel to Niagara, Quebec, Maine, New York City, Washington, D. C. and Boston. She told of her visit to the house of Seven Gables, Paul Revere's home and the Old North Church.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Opal White, to Lillie Hellwig, Jessie Ramsey, Margaret Rasnick, Gladys Claxton, Mildred Ray, Mabel Parker and one guest of the club, Mrs. Chester Boyle.
