Mill City Hi-Lites

By GARY PETERSON

The Mill City High School auditorium was the scene of the annual Sadie Hawkins Party which was this year given by the Freshman class. Drag, not stag, was the rule, as the girls again wound up asking for dates. Big deal!

Mr. McLeod of Master Engravers visited Mill City high to take orders for the graduation announcements and cards from the hopeful seniors. Wonder why he started pounding his head against the wall after listening to the long argument about which announcement to get, and what color tassel to wear with the caps and gowns, and so forth. After he got the order, Mr. McLeod didn't seem to stay very long.

The Senior class play was a financial success, earning over a century-note for the flunk-dzy fund. The Christmas cards which various residents of Mill City ordered from the seniors have now arrived and will be delivered shortly. This is another enterprise the seniors have as a money-raiser for flunk-day. Tradition has it that every year the seniors (pardon the word) skip school one day in the spring and go away over the weekend as a class. The more money they can earn, the bigger the time they can have when they take off.

A football banquet was given for the football players and their fathers, Saturday evening, in the high school recreation room. Short speeches were made by the coaches, various players, and two of the fathers; by Ken Crosier, who told of his feelings while watching Brooks and the team play football and; by Charles Kelly, who got the same feeling, he said, watching his daughter lead yells. After the speech-making portion of the program was over, the well-gorged audience adjourned to the auditorium, where they saw edited football season for the UO Webfoots. Outstanding duck player was Woodley Lewis, now playing for the Los Angeles Rams. Lewis on a kickoff play ran 102 yards for the longest touchdown run in the history of the PCC. When running hard, he could cover 12 feet per stride.

Thanksgiving is coming this week, and Mill City schools will enjoy a two-day vacation. That's so that on Friday and Saturday they can go to the doctor for the stomach aches they earned on Thursday. Care must be exercised so that Thanksgiving will not become a propaganda device for the Communists. If we eat too much, they say that we are bourgeois capitalists, growing fat on the labor of others. If we eat too little, they call us the starving masses of the people. If we eat turkey too raw, we are barbarians. If we eat it well-done, we are stupid as cooking all the food value out of it. There, Mr. Vishinsky, is something to laugh (?) at.
