DECORATE ICE CREAM CUPLETS FOR FEBRUARY HOLIDAY PARTIES

by the General Electric Consumers Institute

February is full of holidays. And if you're planning a Valentine or Washington's Birthday party (or even if you just want to surprise the family with an extra-special dessert treat), you'll find gaily decorated ice cream cuplets the perfect answer to your holiday refreshment problems. Make them ahead of time and store them in the food freezer.

Here's the General Electric Consumers Institute recipe for cuplets, made with the help of an electric mixer, and some suggestions for appropriate decorations.

Ice Cream Cuplets

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
 1 12-16 ounce pack 1/2 pints vanilla ice cream
 1/2 cup frozen sliced strawberries in syrup
 Thaw fruit quickly by placing package in large container of hot water. Let stand 10 minutes, then add more hot water to container to make water hot again, and let stand 10 more minutes. Empty fruit from package into small mixer bowl. Using 2 front beaters, beat at a medium speed (Speed 5) until fruit is broken up into small pieces, about 2 minutes. Add ice cream and beat at a low speed (Speed 2) until ice cream is smooth and blended with fruit mixture. Place 12 colored fluted paper cups in 3 x 1 1/2-inch cupcake pans, and divide ice cream mixture into paper cups. Place in food freezer and freeze. Remove a few at a time and decorate if desired, as suggested below. Return to food freezer until all decorating is completed, then place in top opening cartons in convenient numbers for serving. Label, store in food freezer. To serve, remove from cartons, place on serving platter and let stand at room temperature 5-10 minutes before serving. Makes 12 servings.

After you have blended the vanilla ice cream and frozen strawberries in the electric mixer, divide mixture evenly into 12 fluted paper cups in cupcake pans and freeze.

Valentine Hearts

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
 Make strawberry ice cream and freeze firm in white or pink paper cups. Place heart-shaped cookie cutter in center of cuplet. Using about 1/2 tablespoon moist shredded coconut, sprinkle on area outside the cookie cutter. Remove cookie cutter. Using about 1/2 teaspoon whipped currant jelly, place in center of heart shape not covered with coconut, and spread evenly to stem space. Use about 6 tablespoons coconut and 2 tablespoons currant jelly for 12 servings.

Remove the frozen cuplets from the freezer a few at a time for decorating. The little hearts are made of citron colored with red vegetable coloring and cut with a heart-shaped cookie cutter.

Washington Cherries

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute
 Make strawberry ice cream, and freeze firm in white or green paper cups. Cut a drained maraschino cherry in half and place each half, cut side down, on top of cuplet. Using green gum drops, cut stems and leaves and attach to cherries. Use 12 cherries and 3-4 gum drops for 12 servings.

And here is a collection of the finished cuplets.

Cold-Weather Driving Hints

Figures show percentage of driving done each month.

IN THE COMING WINTER the average motorist will drive about 3,600 miles, or 37 1/2% of his mileage for the entire year, as shown in this chart based on gasoline consumption trends. The figures prove that modern cold-weather driving nearly equals other seasons. They also show the increasing importance to the average driver of precautions to assure trouble-free winter driving.

The following nine winter-proofing steps are advised by Gulf Oil automotive engineers: (1) battery—keep fully charged; (2) cooling system—clean and add anti-freeze; (3) crankcase—use winter grade oil and change monthly; (4) chassis—lubricate monthly; (5) ignition system—tune up; (6) transmission and gear axles—change fluid at season's start; (7) tires—provide snow treads and chains where needed; (8) keep car under cover in heated garage, if possible; (9) observe particular precautions against carbon monoxide.

Lanna, made and served cream of wheat. Mrs. Glen Hearing and Mrs. A. T. Barnhardt are leaders of the class. Members are Lanna Harrison, Bonnie Lawson, Susan Gordon, Lois Evans, Ellen Chance, Carol Ball, Charlene Evans and David Riddle.
