Thomas-Freres Wed At Stayton Saturday

Miss Rosella Joanne Thomas of Mill City became the bride of Richard P. Freres of Stayton, the morning of February 16. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thomas of Mill City. Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Freres are the parents of the groom. The marriage ceremony took place in the Immaculate Conception Catholic church in Stayton, with Father Jonas celebrating the nuptial mass at 9 a.m. Two hundred persons were present for the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Junetta Pietrok of Stayton, sister of the groom. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Marcelle Nydigger, Stayton, and Miss Sharan Goblin, Stayton, cousin of the groom. Harold Freres was the best man. Marvin Zuber, cousin of the groom, and Joe Pietrok were ushers. The bride wore a dress of white slipper satin set off by seed pearls and a full train of tulle veil, and flowers of red roses and gardenias. The maid of honor was attired in a dress of orchid satin and net with satin cape collar and headdress to match. The bridesmaids wore dresses of Nile green satin and net and yellow satin and net headdress to match. Bouquets carried were fushias, daffodils and heather.

Wayne Massey, organist, and Mrs. Niels, soloist of Stayton, provided the music for the occasion. A wedding breakfast was given at the home of the groom for the immediate families of the wedding party. The couple are on a wedding trip to Sacramento, Calif., and Reno, Nev. They plan returning to this area February 21. The bride's traveling costume was a navy blue suit and matching blue accessories. The bride's parents have been residents of this area for some eight years. The groom has lived in Stayton all his life.

Homemakers' Price Quiz

Q. Are rug and furniture cleaning and repairing under price control? A.Y., Portland.

A. Yes. The ceiling price should be no higher than the highest price charged during the base period Dec. 19, 1950, through January 25, 1951. These prices should be posted. And if you're ever in doubt on the ceiling price for any such service, save your sales slip and contact the Portland District Office in the Lincoln Building. Service firms have filed their ceiling prices with us. We can check them for you.

Q. How many kinds of price rises are there? Sounds like there must be a lot of them, since OPS keeps allowing so many. M.M., Longview.

A. There are two kinds of price rises. Those allowed by OPS to relieve actual hardship cases and those required by the Capehart and Hurlong amendments to the Defense Production Act. As for the number of price increases allowed by OPS, that number is actually very small compared to the millions of articles now under price control.

Q. Heard that OPS would bring suit to collect any money I was overcharged and give it back to me. Is that right? A. M., Salem.

A. Not exactly. OPS will bring suit for overcharges but if a fine is imposed, that goes only to the U. S. Treasury. You can, as a consumer, bring action yourself. In that case, OPS would testify for you as to the proper ceiling price. OPS also tries to get an out-of-court settlement for the customer.

will visit in Mill City on the 18th for per-school children, according to Mrs. Owens.

The Mill City firemen were called out tonight (Thursday) to put out a fire at Don Smith's Union station. Officer Breneman reported the fire and forced his way in and had it under control by the time the firemen arrived. Damage was quite small.
