Knowledge is Power

1. HOW MANY SLAVE WORKERS DOES RUSSIA HAVE?
 2. HOW DID HUBBELL STRIKE OUT RUTH, GERRIG AND FOX IN SUCCESSION?
 3. WHICH ALLIED SOLDIERS WON THEIR WAR BUT LOST THEIR HOME LAND?

(1.) Seven million is the best estimate, according to Paul Wohl of the "Christian Science Monitor." Estimates of the number of persons confined in Soviet slave labor camps vary from three million to 23 million; but the best-informed anti-communist Russians estimate that the camp population probably numbers between five and seven million persons. By comparison, Russia in 1950 had only 13 million free industrial workers and employees.

(2.) Hubbell mowed down the cream of the American League during the 1934 All-Star game by using his screwball, explains Tom Meany in his book, "Baseball's Greatest Pitchers." In throwing a screwball, the pitcher breaks his wrist in toward the body as the ball is released, instead of away from the body. Hub threw so many screwballs that the palm of his left hand faces outward when he holds his arms at his sides, whereas in any normal person the palms face inward.

(3.) Some 243,000 Poles escaped Nazi and Russian concentration camps to fight alongside the Americans, French and British during World War II. Early in 1945 these Poles in exile learned that Roosevelt and Churchill had agreed to yield half of Poland to Stalin. Eugene Lyons writes in the March "Catholic Digest" that 113,000 of them returned to the western half of Poland after the war while there was still some hope of a free election. The other 130,000 are still living in exile. They won their war, but their allies surrendered the Poles' homeland to Stalin.

taxes? It is true that some are already making plans to leave the area as soon as they are forced out by the filling of the Detroit dam reservoir. It would appear that failing to vote consolidation could sign the death warrant to Detroit and Idanha, and then what are the residents who will be left going to do about supporting their school?

In order to vote at this election or any other an elector must be a resident of the DISTRICT for SIX (6) MONTHS and be a qualified registered elector for 30 days prior to the election date. It is too late now to register in order to vote at this election.

Last week dismantling operations on an old landmark in Mill City started. It was the old grade school building recently sold for salvage and wrecking. Soon it will be gone and many will feel sad in its passing, but progress must go on, since the building was fast deteriorating and was becoming dangerous to stand idle and empty.

Another landmark of more recent days came down and was replaced by another when Dave Epps' neon sign was removed and replaced by one bearing the new name of the Mill City Furniture store on it. Epps' sign welcomed many who traveled through Mill City having a prominent place on the store building where every one could see it as they entered Mill City from the east. Dave has sold his interests here in the Mill City store to Ray Pittor and Harold Cooper of Salem, who have been operating the store for the past month and are making an attractive store for their patron's service. The Mill City Appliance store has moved in and is sharing space with the furniture store since the first of the month.

Last week the highway commission finally took steps to drain "Lake Lyons" located in the center of the community of Lyons at the corner in front of Thiel's grocery. Many thanks are expressed by residents of that community.

The Mill City State Bank is doing something about the parking problem near their business property, when this week they commissioned Al Adams to fill in on the land next to the roadway going into and belonging to the Mountain States Power property and near the bridge approach for a private parking lot for their employees. This move will leave more space available on the street for business parking calls.
