MRS. J. H. JOHNSTON

Mrs. Paul Scheiwiek and daughter, Pauline, sons, David and Alvin, enjoyed spending Wednesday of last week with friends in Independence. The Scheiwiek family moved here from Independence three years ago.

The P. W. Rodich family have all been ill with the flu, the old 1817 variety. They are getting better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Christensen and two children moved to Lyons from the Paul Johnston farm home in Fox Valley. Christensen has been working at the Detroit dam the past two years. He is to be employed at the gas plant in Lyons by Sam Bridges, and the family will live in the house owned by Bridges near the appliance shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn Knox entertained for an evening of cards in their home recently. A turkey dinner was enjoyed earlier in the evening.

College students home this week during spring vacations are Wilma Jull from M.C.C., Bill Howe and Ramon Peterson from Corvallis.

Jack Alloway of Mehama was taken to the Salem Memorial hospital Monday morning after a severe heart attack. Mr. Alloway operates the Hub restaurant in Mehama.

Mrs. Lucy Mulligan, who with her husband operates the Maples Cafe and Tavern will be the new proprietor of the Innside cafe. She opens for business this week. Mr. Mulligan will continue to run the Maples cafe and tavern.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill and Mrs. Donald Shtybe were among those from Mill City who attended the concert in Newberg given by the Four Flats.

Mrs. Jane Culp and son, Michael, took the train last Friday morning for Englewood, Calif., where she will join her husband, Pvt. Dean Culp, who is stationed at Camp Urwin, Calif.

Mrs. Clarence Howe gave a birthday dinner Monday evening honoring her father Joseph Harlan. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lalack and Monte, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Howe, Donnie and Mr. Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Harris returned from Los Angeles Saturday, where they visited relatives.

Bucky Flatman has been quite ill with a throat infection.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Umphress with Marjorie and David went to Salem Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turnbull and Mr. and Mrs. Hagley were in Silverton Friday evening.

The Legion Auxillary is giving a birthday party for the Santiam Legion Post No. 59 Saturday evening, commemorating the 33rd birthday of the Legion. There will be a pot-luck dinner and birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ankofer and son James of Minneapolis, visited with the John Muir's on Monday. Mrs. Ankofer is Mrs. Muir's aunt.

Martin Schroeder from Salem is visiting his daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Stifler for a few days this week.

Mrs. Gladys Lake came home Sunday. She plans to spend a week in Mill City before returning to Cutler City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Martell from Portland and children Cooky and Candy visited parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Keen.

Mill City Hi-Lites

By GARY PETERSON
The Girl's Athletic Association Friday night presented a blowout for the enjoyment of the students of MCHS. Admission to this shindig, known in some circles as a "Height Party", was a nickel per foot. This fee was gladly paid for the privilege of attending the first party since basketball season. Gary Peterson (yeah, I know) played a trumpet solo and Pat Brown and Dorothy Downer did a pantomime burlesquing the record "Pretty-Eyed Baby" and another number, the name of which I do not recall. Refreshments were served at halftime, and consisted of cookies and punch (knocked down five girls, three boys, and a stray cat that fell into the giant glass container). Nevertheless, the party was enjoyed (my theory) by everyone present.

Baseball practice was resumed in mid-week after a long weekend of adverse weather conditions. The game with St. Paul was postponed until a later date because wet fields retarded development of both teams concerned. The Timberwolves, however, should round into shape if the weatherman that calls the shots gives us a break. The first home game, and the first under the lights, is scheduled for April second against the Stayton Eagles. Game time is eight p.m.

The track team has been working out quite regularly despite rain and is improving rapidly. Coach John Jubb is sending his charges through stiff drills in an effort to get them in condition for the April 9 track meet with the Chemawa Indians. This and all of the Timberwolves meets are to be held elsewhere, at least for this year.

There are several Mill City girls attending the Grand Assembly meeting of Rainbow Girls in Lebanon, Oregon. Donna Cooke, Lela Kelly, Ardith Jones, Gerry Hamblin, and Vera Loucks are, I think, the girls attending this meeting.

A basketball banquet was held in the MCHS recreation room Wednesday evening. Following the delectable meal, various members of the basketball squad, the cheerleaders, the coaches, and Superintendent Vernon S. Todd made speeches, and everyone enjoyed a movie after adjourning to the auditorium.

Principal Harrison T. Caughey suffered a heart attack during the weekend, and is recuperating in the hospital. His condition is not believed to be critical. Mill City students wish him a speedy recovery.
