IDANHA

By MRS. RUTH JOHNSON

Our new residents are the John Lute family, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kelly and Rex Cecil, who have moved in Idanha from Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cook have moved their grocery store to its new location in New Detroit. John will be selling groceries soon, he says, and at fair prices, too.

Mrs. Earl Carte and Anna Bess went to Myrtle Creek last week to visit Mr. Carte's mother, Mrs. Anna Carte an sister, Mrs. A. J. Pasqualone, who is visiting in Myrtle Creek. Her home is at Gallup, N.M.

Earl Carte was called to Myrtle Creek as his mother was reported ill, she is much improved at this writing. Mrs. Carte will remain at Myrtle Creek for a while. Earl returned home as he has a business to take care of.

Denny, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney had his tonsils removed last week. He had a set-back and had to be taken to Salem for medical attention. But he is better now. For he is in mischief again and that shows he is OK.

Mrs. Marion Alderman went to Mill City Tuesday to be prettied up a bit. She has a nice new permanent.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Alderman of Prineville visited the Marion Alderman home. Bonnie and Marion are brothers.

Mrs. Melba DeLaire and Mrs. Myrtle Geston are working at the new fish hatchery this week. They are branding fish or de-finning them before they are turned loose in Oregon streams. The idea of branding is to keep records of their migration and to see if they come back to their native haunts or get over the fish ladders at the dams.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jacobson have moved from the Schaffer duplex to a new location next to the highway.

The Auxillary of the American Legion met at the home of Mrs. Opal Leming. Members present were, Mesdames Floy Storey, Bernadine Stoll, Esther Fouts, Pearl Giebler, Myrtle Geston, Donna Halford, Molly Faulhaber, Alma Lady, and Gene Cannon, a visitor, a one time member. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Donna Halford April 8 with nomination of officers.

Mr. Johnson and I took a little trip down to Detroit last Saturday. Gosh, it's getting to be a ghost town alright. Well, Detroit has a lot of memories to drown when its covered with water, there has been murders, suicides, fights, and about every sort of joy or sorrow any little town could ever have one-old resident told me Detroit will never stay under water, its ghost will always ride the waves of the lake like a chip, always staying in the hearts and minds of all the true old timers. As long as any of the true old timers are alive, old Detroit will be alive too. New Detroit is up and coming, the post office moved today, two grocery stores will soon be open for business. The night club is in the making, and Layman's tavern will be open soon. Francis is going to build a garage and service station in the near future, and I hear but not confirmed that Bob Manning will build a restaurant building soon. The streets are taking shape and buildings are being moved to their new locations.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young of Tokeland, Wash., were visitors at the R. F. Andresson home over the weekend. Mrs. Young is Mrs. Andresson's sister.
