Walter H. Dodd Plans Active Campaign

Walter H. Dodd of Eugene, candidate for delegate to the Democratic national convention in the May 16th primary, arrived in San Diego, Sunday (April 27), from Korea aboard the troop ship General William Wiegall along with 4,100 combat marine and navy personnel of the 1st Marine division and 1st Marine air wing.

Before being recalled to active duty in January 1951, Dodd was a graduate assistant in political science at the University of Oregon and active in state political affairs.

Dodd, a navy hospital corpsman attached to the 1st Marine division spent eight months in Korea. He is also a veteran of World War II.

The Korean veteran will soon be released by the navy and plans to actively campaign for the delegate position.

Canyon Avenue--

in full, but because of lack of space I shall pick a few choice quotes which will give you some idea of what the steel companies are trying to do. This quotation is rapping the senators for failure to pass the Baruch plan:

"... and some of the steel moguls now talking about the dangers of inflation, which are real, were not here when a relatively small group of senators were fighting for the adoption of the Baruch plan, which would have frozen prices and wages, established credit controls which really would have been a check upon inflation, and would have resulted in fiscal policies on the part of the government which really would have had an effect in checking inflation. . . .

"Had we adopted that plan, I think that by today we would have saved the American taxpayers a minimum of $14,000,000,000 which have now gone down the inflation drain, wasted because there were too many groups who were more interested in 'getting theirs while the getting was good,' and who were willing to profiteer at the expense of blood being spilled in Korea.

"In the Johnson subcommittee of the committee on Armed Services an opportunity has been afforded to look into the matter of profits of a large number of corporations that have been making an economic killing out of the defense program. The profits are much higher than they were at the height of World War II. I say that is shameful."

Net Profits Reported After Taxes—Steel Industry

(In millions)	1939	1945	1951
U. S. Steel	$41.1	$58.0	$179.6
Bethlehem	24.6	34.9	89.5
Republic	10.7	9.5	52.3
Jones & Laughlin	3.1	8.5	31.8
National	12.6	11.1	46.0
Armco	4.0	13.4	35.7
Youngstown	5.0	7.5	31.4
Inland	10.9	9.9	33.7
Wheeling	5.6	4.0	15.6
Sharon	.4	1.0	9.6
Kaiser	*	16.6	7.5

* Not operating.
You will note that Kaiser is the only steel company that did not increase its profits. Several more companies not listed here show profits have doubled and in some cases multiplied ten times. Is there any reason then that Big Steel must raise its prices in order to pay increased wages to its men?

When Senator Morse discussed the profits of the steel companies this is what he had to say: "... prepare to weep, for you should feel sorry for these steel companies. They are making tremendous sacrifices for their country in the midst of a war; they are bleeding economically for the boys who are dying in Korea—in fact, in 1951 they did so to the tune of at least $596,000,000 of profits, after taxes, including excess-profits taxes. Mr. Randall forgot to tell the American people that."

"But it takes a lot of brass to propagandize the American people about the need for a $12-a-ton increase in price, when in 1951 profits after taxes were in the neighborhood of $596,000,000."

Where is the patriotism of Big Steel when you see the thousands of dollars it spends on full page advertising and radio time to beat down the working men and rob the consumer with higher prices?

More and Better Fed Chickens

Even former Pres. Herbert Hoover should admit that Americans are doing all right—measured by his own yardstick.

When Hoover was campaigning for President in 1928, GOP slogans told the country that the Republican party had "put the proverbial 'chicken in every pot'."

Last year the American people ate 750 million chickens—22 times the consumption in the early 1930's.

In 1934 farmers made $18 million on poultry. Last year they took in $517 million from the sale of chickens.

People are eating more chicken today because personal income has increased by about five times since the early 1930's.

Not only are the American people eating more chicken. They also are eating better chicken.

Today's chicken is bigger, healthier and meatier around the legs and breast. That's because even chickens are getting a better diet today than they did during the Hoover administration.
