Mill City Hi-Lites

By GARY PETERSON
The Timberwolves notched their fourth straight win Monday afternoon as they defeated a skeleton crew of Stayton Eagles by a 7-0 count. Stalwarts of the Stayton team were participating in a track meet in Salem. Al Ward racked up a two-hit pitching performance, walking three and striking out nine.
Roy Chase turned in a three-hit game, but it was wasted as Gates Cole went one better with a one-hitter, striking out 19 of the Mill City team as Gates edged Mill City 1 to 0 on the Timberwolves' home field Tuesday evening. Big man for Gates was Jerry Larson with two singles in three trips to the dish.
In a Wednesday afternoon tilt, Elton Gregory pitched a two-hit game against Detroit to end the current season for the MCHS diamond brigade with a 6-1 victory. This game, played on the Detroit field (?), was just dripping. Inclement weather conditions greatly hampered both teams and the umpire. Bob Baltimore led the MC crew with two hits in three trips, scoring twice.
Evidently the ruse I attempted to confuse underclassmen about the date of the Flunk day was unsuccessful. Shux! And too, some of the (blank) Juniors didn't think the crack I made about them being nosy was at all funny, in view of the fact that the seniors snoop around to find out what the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom was. Anyway it was all in fun, and sort of even—we knew what the theme of the Prom was, and they knew when we were leaving for Flunk day.
Speaking of Proms, the Saturday night affair was very successful, and very prettily decorated. Following the theme Garden in the Rain, the high school auditorium was decorated with crepe paper flowers, a stone wall, and, in the center, a wishing well. Bob Fuller and his orchestra provided the music, which was very nice. I think the Juniors will forgive poor little me for saying they are nosy now. Roses to the Juniors.

Yes, we did leave this week for Flunk Day. As it was hinted in last week's edition of the Hi-Lites column, we went to a resort area in Washington, Oregon, California, or British Columbia.
Donald Ragsdale wants his name in the paper.
Turn to the same column next week, same paper, same adjectives, same writer(?).

HAYSEED

BUY A COW
Henry Ford once made the statement that he had done away with the mule and that he intended to do the same with the cow. We admit that he made a car that had a wallop of a kick when contrary about cranking but if he ever made a car that could be milked we have never met the critter. But instead the cars milk many owners dry of cash. No doubt cars have done away with many cows. Many people instead of buying a cow buy a car on installment. Most people would rather ride than milk a cow.
Big dairies are a necessity for the city dwellers but should not be called on to supply milk where there should be a family cow. Most rural homes would be better kept if the surroundings were kept grazed by a cow. A cow does not necessitate expensive housing. She only requires a place where she can be kept clean, warm and dry.
A few gallons of wholesome milk produced at home will be worth more than barrels of gasoline bought at a filling station. If you are a young couple just married buy a cow. If you have a family buy a cow. If you are too old to work buy a cow. Be sure to curtail your unnecessary spending then you can buy and keep a cow.
