Mari-Linn Teachers Continue Studies

By JEAN ROBERTS

Mehama—With spring in the air school pupils of Mehama and Lyons are looking forward to summer vacation. End of the term however, does not mean vacation for the teachers, many of whom plan to attend summer school.

One Mehama teacher and several Mari-Linn teachers have been taking courses during the school year, some as many as 2 or 3, and many of them plan to continue school during the summer months.

Requirements for Oregon school teachers have been raised so that most teachers must take extra courses to obtain needed credits.

Carrying a course is an added burden on a teacher who is already devoting 8 hours a day to a classroom, as a course requires from 12 to 15 hours of study each week.

In addition to time, the course is added expense, costing $25 per course and $1.00 per trip for transportation. Most courses run 10 or 11 weeks.
