

By DON PETERSON
This week we celebrate the 7th anniversary of the United Nations.

Time will tell whether it will grow stronger or be sabotaged in the same manner that the League of Nations was destroyed. United Nations has found a universal reception among nations all over the globe and for that reason will grow and become stronger and more useful as an instrument of "Peace on Earth, Good Will Towards Men."

The United Nations is our last hope for peace among nations who fear God and with the successful banding together in the UN we can let the Godless nations in the Russian orbit of influence know that we do not intend to permit any more of her ruthless moving in on her neighbors.

The strength of the UN is in its ability to raise a fighting force strong enough to fight any other force that may be possible to organize against any member of the UN.

If we allow the UN to become weak and unable to enforce its edicts we may as well throw the paper it is written on into the fire and prepare to go it alone. Then we will soon find out how difficult it will be to maintain our own strength, as our stockpiles begin to diminish of the products we need from other lands.

We do not find it necessary to maintain an army for the protection of the state of Oregon, nor does California find it necessary to do likewise, because we know that the federal government will protect our rights from an enemy aggressor. It can be so in the not too distant future in the world of tomorrow that nations will no longer have armies of their own but will depend upon the United Nations forces to protect us from outside troublemakers and bullies.

Last week the editor of the Daily Emerald, the University of Oregon's student newspaper took the position that it would support the election of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for the presidency. The editor knew that his position was not popular with the entire student body, but he felt it his duty to take a stand and he chose Stevenson.

I think Larry Hobert, Emerald editor has set forth his reasons in such a manner that you may find food for thought in what he has to say. Below I print his editorial in full:

"The Oregon Daily Emerald will support Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for President of the United States.

"We believe Governor Stevenson to be a man of outstanding intellectual and moral qualities, of uncompromising principles and a remarkable candor.

"In July the contest was even. In October, it is no longer so.

"Governor Stevenson, through forth right stands on the campaign issues and a clear grasp of domestic and foreign affairs, has advanced.

"Dwight D. Eisenhower, through failure to grapple with essential points, has fallen back.

"We consider America's foreign policy the fundamental issue in this campaign. We believe a free and peaceful world should be the goal of that policy.

"On Labor Day in Grand Rapids, Mich., Governor Stevenson said in part:

"... I believe the essential direction of our foreign policy is right—building the unity and collective strength of the free countries to prevent the expansion of Soviet domination and control over one nation after another. I think we must join other nations in building military, economic, and political strength which can gradually but surely lessen the relative power of the Soviet Union on world events."

On Sept. 9 in San Francisco Governor Stevenson said of communism and democracy:

"Co-existence is not a form of passive acquiescence in things as they are. It is waging the contest between freedom and tyranny by peaceful means. It will involve negotiation and adjustment—compromise but never appeasement—and I will never shrink from these if they advance the world toward secure peace."

"Eisenhower in his 'ten points' presented in Philadelphia offers no new solution to the struggle for peace and freedom. Naively he has called for 'liberation without war,' a statement which is virtually meaningless.

"Eisenhower charges bungling in Korea but offers no solution. Stevenson says: "... if we had not chosen to fight in Korea, sooner or later we would have had to fight a bigger war somewhere else. The memory of

Edith Green Seeks Sec. of State Post

Because powers of the Oregon State Board of Control are so great, elected officials who wield these powers must be chosen for their integrity, ability, and lack of self-interest.

Mrs. Edith S. Green, Democratic candidate for the office of Secretary of State, in a talk before faculty and students of the University of Oregon at Eugene Friday emphasized that voters must not under-estimate powers of the Board of Control.

Mrs. Green has had wide experience in legislative matters. For several years she was state legislative chairman for the PTA. Among other things, she advocates elimination of abuses in the state's civil service system, and avoiding partisan politics.

She pointed out that a bill to abolish Civil Service was introduced at the last session of the legislature. "It's a matter of record," Mrs. Green said, "that two members of the Board of Control appeared at a closed committee hearing to testify for a bill which would have wrecked the State Civil Service system and thrown most state employment to the naked political spoils system."

Mrs. Green also said the State Board of Control can see that such incidents as the refusal to employ an American-born Japanese war veteran because of his racial origin, do not occur.

"The power of these three officials, for good or evil," extends to all state institutions, she emphasized. "I think we should be constantly striving

Ellis 'Bulger' Hill Passes Sunday

Ellis "Bulger" Hill, long a resident and inhabitant of Mill City, passed away Sunday in a Salem hospital. Services in his memory were conducted in Weddle's funeral chapel, Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Harold W. Lyman, Stayton.

Ellis Hill is survived by his widow Ethel Hill of Mill City, two daughter, Opal McRoberts, Mill City, and Donna DeHutt, Salem; brothers, D. B. Hill, Mill City banker, and Clyde Hill of Salem, twin sisters, Elsie Potter of Mill City, and Gladys Trask, Fresno, Calif.

Interment was in the Lone Oak cemetery in Stayton. Further information required for a complete obituary for Ellis Hill was not available for publication in this week's Enterprise.

Loggers Now Work, Woods Re-opened

Mehama—With the woods reopened loggers in this area are again back at work and log trucks busily humming up and down the roads. Closure of the woods because of threat of fire, from hunters, worked a hardship on many western Oregon loggers.

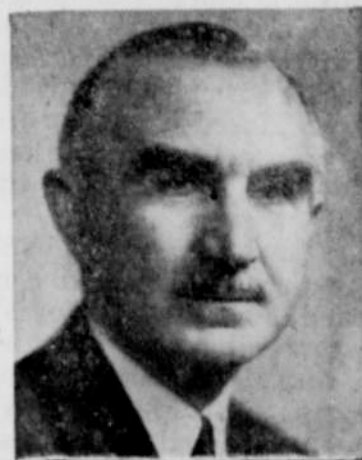

Accustomed to shut downs during hot summer months of low humidity; and anticipating winter layoffs because of wind and snow; loggers were reluctant to see nice October days slipping by.

Despite the unseasonal dry weather, humidity stayed above the 30 degree mark many days during the closure.

A number of Mehama men restless because of no work and not allowed to hunt in this area, volunteered for fire fighting duty at Mt Hood during the closure.

Sen. Wayne Morse Supports Stevenson

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon announced recently his support of Governor Adlai Stevenson for President. The Oregon Republican senator cited as his reason for switching to Stevenson his dissatisfaction with the Republican candidate's endorsement of reactionary office-seekers of the Republican party and those closely associated with Senator Taft of Ohio.

Senator Morse said in part: "The demagogery, double talk, and dangerous desertion by Eisenhower in this campaign of his once professed political principles leaves me with no honorable course of action but to disassociate myself completely from his candidacy."

"Eisenhower is not telling the truth when in political desperation he now claims he has not entered into unconscionable compromises with the reactionaries in the Republican party. I know he has.

"My decision to repudiate Eisenhower has not been an easy one to make because I was the first Republican Senator to declare publicly for Eisenhower."

"However, the Eisenhower I supported for the nomination is not the Eisenhower who is dangling and dancing from campaign platforms at the end of political puppet strings being jerked by some of the most evil and reactionary forces in America politics."

Walking Man Smith Issues Challenge

Oregon's Walking Man, Paul Smith of Mill City has issued a challenge regarding another 100-mile walk. This walk will take place largely in this vicinity. The century walk will begin at Oregon's capital building in Salem and continue from there to Davis Airport near Gates. Smith plans setting straight the record on the 100-mile walk. Smith contends that the 100-mile walk in connection with the '52 Oregon State Fair was not a bonafide walk. Strictly speaking, he claims, no one completed that walk.

Smith will compete with any and all comers in the scheduled 100-mile walk. Smith's challenge will have a duration of 30 days. After 30 days, if there are no contenders for the 100-mile walk title, Smith will walk alone. A one-half mile walking course will be laid out on Davis Airport and Smith will do the main part of his 100-mile walk there.

Mrs. Brosig Opens New Cafe Saturday at Gates

The "Chili Bowl" is Gates' newest business. Mrs. Lois Brosig, 12 years Gates post office assistant, Saturday opened the new eatery located across the street from the Gates post office and in Wm. Hutcherson's building. Betty Hayward is helping in the operation of the Chili Bowl, which specializes in home made chili, sandwiches, ham and eggs and soup.

The Chili Bowl remains open for business 11:30 a.m. to 2 a.m. each day. The Chili Bowl is located beside the Gates' automatic laundry and in the building formerly occupied by the Gates' tailor. Highway 222 borders a line of businesses in Gates which includes Gates' recent establishment, the Chili Bowl.

Hospital Board Makes Final Opening Plans

The board of directors of the Santiam Memorial hospital Monday evening authorized an enrollment campaign which will be undertaken in November.

Purpose of the drive is to give everyone in the communities served by the hospital an opportunity to become subscribers before the hospital opens. Enrollment now, also, will permit inclusion of names of those subscribers on the memorial board which will be placed in the hospital lobby.

Copy for the Memorial board is in preparation, it was explained at the board meeting. Subscribers who wish to increase their contributions now can qualify for a higher classification on the memorial board.

The drive for funds will be headed by R. L. Stewart with M. Van Driesche as co-chairmen. There will be four teams of workers with C. H. Darley, Jack Keudell, Mike Benedict and Chris Neitling, as team captains.

The drive will open with a dinner meeting which will be served by the women's auxiliary in the practically complete west wing of the hospital building. There will be report meetings at noon luncheons in the Legion hall on November 5, 6 and 7.

An audit of hospital accounts has been made by W. N. Simmons, public accountant. Although funds have been coming in regularly it was brought out that cash will be needed sorely between now and time of opening. If the drive for new subscriptions and collections do not come in fast enough it may be necessary to negotiate a loan. Many substantial subscriptions are not payable until late in 1953.

John G. O'Toole, hospital consultant, and Mrs. O'Toole, of Nyssa, attended the board meeting. The board authorized installation of a paging system in the hospital. Committees were assigned also for assisting Mr. O'Toole in rounding up of personnel for hospital operation.

Every effort is to be made to employ a competent manager. This person can be either a registered nurse or not.

Other personnel to be employed will include nurses, nurses' aids, kitchen workers and a maintenance man. Persons interested in any of these positions may leave their names at the hospital office.

Mr. O'Toole or Mrs. O'Toole who is a registered nurse will be here for the opening and for about a month thereafter to assist in getting the hospital functioning smoothly. The couple is now in charge of the hospital in Nyssa.

Meetings of the board of director will be held on the first and third Tuesday evenings.

Seaman Harlin Gibson Home on Furlough

Seaman Harlin Gibson, U.S.L.S.T. 799 crewman, returned from Korea, Thursday, October 16, after 10 months service overseas. Gibson is spending the bulk of his 30-day furlough with his grandparents, the Sam Culwells of Lyons.

Gibson's duty was aboard a ship assigned to rescue work on United Nations pilots going down at sea. His ship to date has rescued 25 pilots from the cold waters of the sea.

Seaman Gibson was a member of the class of 1951 of Mill City high school. He joined the service in September, 1951. Gibson will report for further duty at Long Beach, Cal., at the end of his 30-day furlough.
