Marilyn Chapter Holds Initiatory Meeting

Marilyn Chapter held its regular meeting Monday evening, November 10, with Halle Toman, worthy matron and W. B. Shuey, acting worthy patron presiding.

Initiatory degrees were conferred upon Ardith Jones, past grand musician of Acacia Assembly, Rainbow for Girls. A degree and gift were presented in Ardith's honor by Mrs. W. B. Shuey and Mrs. Charles Kelly. A solo was sung by Mrs. Donald Sheythe.

The worthy matron honored the "sideliners" by having them presented to the East and giving them a small token of appreciation. Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mrs. Elsie Potter, Mrs. Dorothy Draper and Mrs. Gladys Cowdry.

Junior Symphony's--

The orchestra will again present a special young people's concert at 11 a.m. at the auditorium on the same day. The program will feature short and lively symphonic selections, and present the first in a season series of three "Stories of Orchestra Families", which will tell the stories behind the string, woodwind and brass sections in an orchestra. The series has been arranged by Conductor Gershkovitch and David Campbell, narrator of the children's concerts.

Tickets are on sale at the Junior Symphony office, 618 Park bldg., and will move to the J. K. Gill box office three days prior to the concert.

Hugh Julls Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Wilma, Bill and Ralph Jull, daughter and sons of Minister and Mrs. Hugh E. Jull, assisted by the ladies of the Mill City Christian church, held open house last Sunday afternoon at the church parsonage in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Minister and Mrs. Jull. The Julls were married in Scottsbluff, Nebr., in 1927.

Ellen Shelton was in charge of the guest book, Mrs. Elmer Shaw served the 3-tier cake, which was decorated with a wedding bell with "25" inside the bell. Mrs. Gladys Chance poured coffee, Mrs. Glen Shelton served the tea and Mrs. Leora Caraway and Mrs. E. K. Fish assisted in the kitchen.

Fifty guests signed the guest book. Members of the church brought gifts which included a silver offering for the honored couple.

The Julls came to Mill City church from Joliet, Montana, where Minister Jull served as pastor for six years. Mr. Jull will celebrate next spring his 25th year as an ordained minister.

New Babies and How To Raise Them

There's more to life than sleeping and eating, says baby. Having fun with father is important, too.

It's a sure bet that every young married woman who ever gave a passing thought to motherhood and the manifold problems that accompany it, has a thousand questions on her mind that she would like answered intelligently.

Answers to many of these burning wonderments plus numerous other useful facts about pregnancy and baby care are lucidly presented in one of the most practical and friendly books on this subject available today. Parent's Magazine Book of Baby Care, a complete guide for mothers and expectant mothers is being introduced currently in the nation's book stores.

The authors are three women, who from every viewpoint, are ideal to compile a book of facts about babies; in that respect it is quite a contrast from other books, mostly authored by physicians or psychologists. Eleanor S. Duncan, a young author who is raising two children, one a baby, is the chief architect of this work, and she naturally writes from practical experience, offering first hand knowledge that couldn't be obtained from an objective clinical or medical man, nor a child psychologist. She relates numerous typical incidents encountered and coped with, as only a woman who is exposed to such daily problems, can do. Editing this account was the job of a woman renowned in the realm of American family life, Clara Savage Littledale, editor of Parent's Magazine. Technical guidance was supplied by Dr. Dorothy V. Whipple, a leading pediatrician. Several noteworthy factors about the volume, are that it gives essentials and it carries a tone of reassurance. It is written in an informal, flexible style and from the chapters on pregnancy and childbirth, care, feeding and discipline, to those on physical and mental development, no information that might be helpful to parents has been left out. The whole approach is based on sound knowledge of what children need for their best all-around development. Throughout, parents are given plenty of latitude and are exhorted to use their judgment in meeting individual crises.

Daddy comes in for his share of importance in this vignette, and not later in a child's life. It is emphasized that it's the mutual job of the father and mother to rear the child cooperatively from the beginning.
