Mill City Hi-Lites

The high school cheer leaders and song leaders are getting ready for the basketball jamboree, which is the assembling of all the teams of the league, to judge the cheer leaders and the school spirit. The teams each play for a short period of time while their schools cheer for them. This year's jamboree will be held at Jefferson high school in their new gymnasium, on December 6.

Virginia Timm who was elected to the junior position on the rally squad. She had an accident and so is unable to fulfill this position has been replaced by Donna Bengston.

The annual football banquet will be held Friday night at the high school recreation room.

The Chess club meeting last Tuesday was the last one to be held because the advisor, Mr. Chaney, who is now assistant coach, is too busy to go to the meetings. He suggests that if the members want the club to go on, they get a new advisor and not limit the program to chess and ping pong.

The GAA is beginning work on the "Winter Prom". This is an annual event but the formal name, "Christmas Formal", has been changed. All the committees are working to have everything done by the night for the prom, December 20.

The Teen Canteen had a party last Saturday, November 15. Everyone was supposed to come dressed up like a hill-billy and there would be winners chosen. The winners for the girls were chosen by the boys and they were Pat Nibler and Geraldine Hamblin. The girls chose Gary Peterson, who graduated from Mill City high school last year, Truman Jones, and Donald Nesbitt.

Joan Johnson, a senior, who is getting married, was surprised last Thursday. The other girls of the GAA showered her after school. The same night the girls of the senior class had a dinner in her honor.

Elk Hunters Return Tuesday With Bear

Breitenbush, near Detroit, yielded a bear to elk hunters, Bill Richards, Sparky Ditter, and Joe Challenger of Mill City, Tuesday. The three men were about the business of elk hunting when at least three bear were encountered.

Bill Richards, using a 300 Savage rifle downed a yearling bear which ran in front of him after its flight from the cougar hounds of Challenger. Richards and Challenger had abandoned the search for an elk and had taken up the diversion of cougar hunting with Challenger's hounds. The bear signs led one of Challenger's hounds to the mother bear and her young.

Before the cougar hound could move in on the bear it was lured away by the mother bear in protection of her treed young one. Just as the young bear came from the tree and was making his escape Richard's rifle cracked and its bullet brought down a highly prized trophy. The bear was of such size and age that it will provide good meat and a nice bear rug. Many of Mill City's citizens admired the specimen when the proud hunters returned to Mill City.
