Homemade Cookies—An Ideal Gift

Have you ever made sugar cookies in fancy shapes? If you haven't you don't know the fun you've missed. Sugar cookie Santas, Christmas trees, snow men and stars look gay and Christmasy, and make irresistible eating. Amusing decorations for the tree or table, these holiday cookies are conversation pieces, welcome gifts. Decorate them with red dots, tiny gum drops or dribbles of frosting tinted with vegetable coloring. Winifred S. Carter, who directs the Household Information Service for Procter and Gamble, suggests you put them on a cookie sheet when wrapping them for a gift. Cover them with cellophane, so the prettiness shows through, then tie with a big red bow and a sprig of fir. And just so you'll know how easy they are to make, here's Mrs. Carter's recipe.

Crisp Sugar Cookies (Makes five dozen 2" cookies)

1/2 cup Crisco 1 cup sugar 1 egg 2 cups sifted flour 1 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup milk 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract

Blend Crisco, sugar and egg. Add dry ingredients (which have been sifted together) alternately with milk and flavoring to Crisco mixture. Chill. After chilling, roll dough to 1/4" thickness on floured board or pastry cloth. Cut into desired shapes with floured cookie cutter; sprinkle with plain or colored sugar. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 7-10 minutes.
