Ida Geddes, 98, Celebrates Again

Mrs. Ida Geddes was honored by the Presbyterian church women last Wednesday afternoon on her 98th birthday anniversary in the recreation room of the church.

At 96, Mrs. Geddes became a charter member of the Mill City Toastmistress club where she is a regular speaker.

Mrs. Geddes is considered exceptionally alert. She makes a garden and assists with housework at the home she shares with two children, Daisy and Al Geddes, both of whom are single.

Born in Wisconsin in 1855, Mrs. Geddes came west in 1883 and taught in Mill City schools before retiring years ago. The son and daughter who live with her have retired, too.

Cree-McClintock Nuptials Read

Miss Patricia May Cree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell O. Cree and Cpl. William N. McClintock, son of Robert L. McClintock, Portland, were wed at a double ring ceremony Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the First Christian church at Salem.

The Rev. Dudley Strain read the service with members of the immediate family attending. Mrs. Ben Gifford was soloist and Mrs. Kay Crockett played the pipe organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a green taffeta afternoon dress, with brown accessories and a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white hyacinths and American Beauty rose buds.

Miss Betty Lou Cree, the bride's only sister was her attendant. She wore an orchid dress with white accessories and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and hyacinths.

Buford Anderson of Oakridge, brother-in-law of the groom served as best man.

Jack McClintock of Mill City, brother of the groom was usher.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue and black print crepe dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fireplace room. Mrs. Buford Anderson of Oakridge, sister of the groom cut the wedding cake. Mrs. J. C. Kimmel aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Blaine Hanks of Portland, cousin of the bride, presided at the coffee urn and punch bowl. Miss Marlene Tickle was at the gift table and Donald Cree, the bride's brother passed the guest book.

For going away the bride donned a biege topper, biege and brown straw hat and a white carnation corsage.

The bride graduated from the Mill City high school with the class of '52.

The groom returned the latter part of January following two years spent in Korea and Japan with the Marines.

Following a wedding trip the couple will return to Mill City. The groom will report to Camp Pendleton, Ocean-side, Calif., March 5 to serve 18 more months with the Marine corps.
