Roylene Guthrie and Wm. Turnidge Married Dec. 31

MEHAMA—The Mehama church was the scene of a pretty wedding the evening of December 31 when Roylene Guthrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Guthrie of Westminster, Calif. and William D. Turnidge, son of Bert Turnidge of Mill City and Mrs. Hubert Wagner of Mehama were united in marriage in a ceremony read by Rev. Noble Streeter. The church was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and greenery.

The bride who was given in marriage by W. B. Pickens of Forest Grove, wore a ballerina length dress of white net-over satin and carried a white bible with a white orchid corsage.

Joan Turnidge, sister of the groom was the bride's only attendant and wore a ballerina length dress of green net over taffeta.

Hubert Wagner acted as best man for his step-son. The wedding music was furnished by Miss Alice Smith; she also played the accompaniment for Mrs. Tilman Rains who sang "Because" and "Truly."

Paul Cree and Joe Cribbs, uncles of the groom were ushers, and Bobbie Cribbs lit the candles.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Wagner wore a brown suit with tan accessories and a corsage of pink roses and carnations. The brides parents were unable to attend.

A reception following the wedding was held in the Women's club house. Miss Shirley Smith, aunt of the groom cut the cake and Mrs. Joe Cribbs poured. Mrs. Paul Cree looked after the gift table and Miss Shirley Cree passed the guest book.

The young couple left on a short wedding trip before returning to California where Mr. Turnidge is stationed with the Navy.

Five Accidents in 1953
Kill Nineteen Persons

Five traffic smash-ups during 1953 earned the distinction of being named Oregon's "worst of the year" by the state traffic safety division Friday.

Five accidents killed 19 persons. Two of the multiple death mishaps occurred in Lane county; one when a driver lost control at high speed and struck another car with such impact that the motor, radiator, right front fender and hood were jerked from his car and thrown to the opposite of a four lane road. Debris and the bodies of five people were scattered around a 100 foot radius.

The other Lane county tragedy occurred on a curve when a driver traveling at high speed skidded into loose gravel and then catapulted across the highway into a lake, drowning himself and three persons.

Four more lost their lives in a Yamhill county collision caused by a driver who disregarded a stop sign, and collided with a second vehicle. This driver was later arrested and convicted of negligent homicide.

Last accident to make the state's "most lethal" listing occurred in November when the driver of a car, accompanied by vacation-bound college students, lost control on wet highway and careened, broadside into another car. Three persons were killed in this mishap. Earlier in the year, three persons were killed when a driver lost control of his car and plunged over a bank in Jackson county. Two died immediately and one died in a hospital a short time later.

Twenty-seven other smash-ups brought death to 54 people during 1953, to bring Oregon's loss in multiple-death collisions to 73. Fatalities form all traffic accidents in 1953 are expected to reach approximately 385.

State-Wide Organization
Being Set Up for Aid
Heart Education Program

PORTLAND—A state-wide organization is being set up to further Oregon's participation in "National Heart Month" through February, according to James F. Miller, state chairman of the 1954 Oregon Heart Association's fund raising and educational campaign.

County chairmen will be appointed, Miller said, to carry on the campaign for funds in areas in which the Oregon association does not participate as a beneficiary in United Fund or Community Chest allotments, and to direct the general educational program aimed at prevention and treatment of diseases of the heart and circulatory system.

Miller pointed out the heart sufferers work classification unit, recently set up in Portland, as an example of the community service made possible through heart fund contributions.

Purpose of the unit is to assist persons with heart disease to adjust their daily routine and habits to enable them to stay on their jobs, or to be assigned to new jobs, with employer cooperation, best suited to their individual capacities for work. Doctors in any part of the state may refer their patients to the unit for examination and advice.

Other association activities include state-wide service for the prevention of rheumatic fever, one of the three major contributing factors of heart disease, and continuing research grants to the University of Oregon medical school for the study of cardiovascular diseases.

Seven Give Lives To '53 Hunting Season

Seven persons died from accidental gunshots during 1953 hunting season in Oregon.

The death victims were Mrs. Clarence Barnes, about 42, Milton-Freewater; Gilbert Gabrielson, 23, and Richard C. Roadman, 29, both of Portland; Wayne Gordon Olson, 14, Medford; Jack Eastham, 29, Astoria; Jimmy D. Hooker, 24, Albany; Oregon and Edwin Cecil McLaren, 49, LaGrande.

In addition at least 14 hunters suffered fatal heart attacks in the woods and three persons were killed in traffic accidents while traveling to hunting sites.

Courage is generosity of the highest order, for the brave are prodigal of the most precious things.

Courage without conscience is a wild beast.—R. G. Ingersoll.
