Boy Scouts Clean Up Womans Clubhouse Grounds

Gates—Twenty-four boys, members of the local Boy Scouts, troop 45, gathered at the grounds of the community club house, under the direction of the Gates Womans club, Wednesday evening of last week to clean up cut and burn brush. The boys have chosen this work as their regular community service project and it is reported plan to dig a trench 50 feet long for pipes leading to the proposed location of the septic tank and to dig the hole for the tank. After a very busy afternoon the boys built a bonfire and had a picnic dinner on the grounds. This building, when completed will be open to the Scouts at any time for meetings and social affairs. Ladies of the club deeply appreciate the effort to help on the part of the boys and their leader, Darrel Crossler.
