All evidence points towards the fact that the businessmen of Mill City certainly can work together for the betterment of conditions when they want to. This was proven to me conclusively last week when 38 men came to McCarthy's Furniture store to discuss plans for city betterment. A lot of good ideas were brought forth in manners in which we can improve ourselves and make our city more attractive to outsiders, who are coming in every day seeking a permanent home.

Committees have been appointed to work on these projects and if the meeting this past week is any sample of what can be expected, we are assured of success now and in the future. Another meeting of this group is scheduled for tonight (Thursday). Plan to be on hand to express your views. If you're not there and things then don't go to suit you, you have no right to complain.

In a full page advertisement in this issue of The Enterprise, price $2.50 per year, why don't you subscribe, business houses have taken space to ask for assistance in cleaning up the city in general. Full cooperation is needed to make this a success. Let's get our shoulders to the wheel, or better, on the end of the shovel and rake and clean up the winter debris. Make our city one of which we all may be proud. A good slogan for our city is "The City of Hospitality." It is a true slogan and one that should be used continually.

Frank Hunter up at the Silver Saddle Service station sort of got the jump on some of the rest of us. He's already started a clean-up campaign of his own, painting the interior of his work shop at the station. Good work, Frank, it's looks fine.

Pink Mason, too, has had workmen working on his building, occupied by the Mill City Variety. The roof is being repaired.

How many residents of Mill City know that Leonard Herman, our genial garbage disposal man, is at the city dump west of town every Saturday from 1 to 4 o'clock, to enable citizens to dispose of their rubbish? Some evidently don't know or don't care, as many times one can find garbage dumped on the outside of the fence. This practice should cease. With the reasonable rates of garbage pickup in Mill City, everyone should avail themselves of this service.

Boy I really got a scare of my life this week. I've had three half dollars of old mintage in my possession since the big depression in the early 30's, one of them even dates back to 1857. I dug them out of my old sock this past week, and was showing them to some of the fellows around town, and I had planned to put them into a safety deposit box down at the bank. Bob said old socks and tin cans were not in style. The part that worried me was, after showing them to several people I went about my work. Then when the bank opened, I dug into my pocket for the safety deposit box key, and discovered that I had left it home. So at noon, after lunch, I sat down in my easy chair at home, to rest my weary bones. Of course the three halves fell out of my pocket. I came to work, and thought I'd better put them into the safety box and low behold they were not in my pocket. I scratched my old bald head considerably during the afternoon trying to think to whom they were last shown. I was about ready to call on the local gestapo—but felt so foolish that I just kept quiet.

During the course of our dinner at home in the evening, my wife said, "guess where I got the money to pay for my hairdo this afternoon." I bit, and she informed me she found some money in my chair. I hit the roof, and asked if she found my precious half dollars. She didn't know I had dug them out of my sock, so naturally didn't pay any attention to them. Sure enough she had spent them or at least I thought so. I gave the old phone a healthy twist and found the beauty shop was still open. Then I looked into the chair and retrieved one that had escaped my wife's eagle eye. Then we hit it for the beauty shop—sure enough, she had one of the
