Serving refreshments Wednesday night were Gladys Lake, Fern Stone, and Rachel Olmstead.

OVER Every American HEART

IN HONOR OF THOSE WHO DIED FOR AMERICA

What Is A Poppy?
By Tearly Muir

Today and Friday, May 27 and 28 all will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when we of America pay tribute to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, we will be aiding the war's victims by the contributions we make for the flower. The poppies which we will wear on Poppy Day are not, of course, from the fields of France and Belgium where it was nature's tribute to the heroic dead, but are made in hospitals and work-rooms in our Oregon hospitals where war's suffering is still going on.

They have bloomed under the hands of men disabled in war—the comrades of those in whose honor they will be worn. Their petals are only paper and their stems wire, yet into them has been breathed the spirit of patriotic sacrifice, the spirit of those days when life itself was not too much to give for America.

The women who distribute the poppies receive nothing for their efforts except the satisfaction of having helped brighten the memory of the dead and contributed to the welfare of the living.

The money which is dropped into the coin boxes for the poppies goes entirely to the veteran and the families left in need by the death of veterans. Every penny is made to serve these people only.

When you buy your poppy, think of the disabled veteran in the hospital who fashioned the little blood-red flower, of the fatherless family, and of the American boys who lie beneath the waving poppies. Think of these things and you will understand the true significance of the Poppy.

Beware of Transient Septic Tank Cleaners

This office has been informed that transient septic tank cleaning outfits are moving through the county. Residents intending to employ septic tank cleaners are reminded that the cleaners must have a permit issued by the County Health Department. In the past transient cleaners have caused considerable trouble by dumping the septic tank waste improperly and by charging high prices for their work.

A farewell and birthday party was given for Suzette Saltalmachia at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Charley Stewart. Guests celebrated Suzette's 4th birthday. Among those present were Mrs. C. W. Stewart and Carol Dee, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. William Stewart, Jimmy and Anita, Mrs. William Cauble, Susan and Linda, Mrs. Ann Orlando, Nancy and Charley Stewart, and Robert Saltalmachia.

Have your name placed on the subscription list of The Mill City Enterprise and get the paper each week.

Dr. N. S. Meyn, Opens Office Recently in Stayton

N. S. Meyn, M. D., has recently opened his office in Stayton. Doctor Meyn is a graduate of the University of Colorado School of Medicine in Denver, Colorado, and took his hospital training at Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, Oregon. Following that he practiced medicine and surgery in Colorado for three and one-half years and then sold his practice to study at the University of Iowa. He has also served three years in the Army. Because of a long-existing desire to return to Oregon, the Meyn family now hopes to make Stayton their home.

Besides Doctor Meyn there is his wife, Patricia, and 3 daughters: Linda Gay, six years old; Laurie Ann, 4 years old and Nola Joy, 2 years old. They are members of the Methodist Church.

Until more permanent business and living quarters are obtained Doctor Meyn will maintain his office at 386 Fourth street and their home at 674 Fourth street. The interior of both house and office have been redecorated before Dr. Meyn officially started his business.
