Just watch this McCulloch cut, Olaf!

Everywhere you go, you see McCulloch chain saws. You'll find them working in the biggest camps and you'll find them in the hands of the smallest operators. Loggers like McCullochs because they're easy to carry, easy to start, and easy to keep running. And you should see them cut.

See a Demonstration—Within the next few days, stop by our store for a real demonstration of wood cutting.

Nina Knight and Lawrence Poole Exchange Wedding Vows Sunday

Miss Nina Elizabeth Knight, daughter of Mrs. Althea A. Knight, became the bride of Lawrence E. Poole, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Poole, at ceremonies held at the First Christian church Sunday evening June 6 at 7 o'clock. Rev. Hugh Jull officiated at the double-ring ceremony, also giving the home dedication service, all by candle-light.

Soloists were Mr. and Mrs. James Jooles, Jr., the latter a brother of the bridegroom. They sang a duet, "I Take Thee Dear," preceding the ceremony, and Mrs. Poole sang "The Lord's Prayer" when the young couple stood before the altar. Piano accompaniment was by Mrs. Donald Sheythe, who was also organist throughout the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by a cousin, Herbert Peterson, of Spokane, Washington, was lovely in a full-length wedding gown of white lace, satin, and tulle, with a short train and long sleeves. The finger-tip veil was attached to a head-piece of white lace, her bouquet being made up of white baby orchids.

Maid-of-honor was Miss Dolores Poole, sister of the groom, wearing a ballerina-length blue lace and tulle formal with a blue head-band, and carrying a nosegay centered with a blue iris.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Maxine King and Marian Kernan of Salem, both in pink ballerina-length formal, with nosegays of pink iris and pink featured in their headbands.

Miss Sharon Poole and Miss Enid Williams of Ft. Klamath, Oregon, served as candlelighters in short, white formal with white headpieces.

Little Misses Christine and Kathleen Storey, nieces of the groom, were flower girls, dressed in pink and blue, respectively, and carrying white baskets of flowers. Ringbearer was Stephen Todd.

Best man for his brother was Lester Poole, with Leo Poole, another brother, and Elton Gregory as ushers.

The altar of the church was banked with all white flowers, including spirea, dogwood, and snowballs, the decorations being arranged and the attendants' bouquets furnished by the Garden club.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Althea Knight, wore pink bouclé with white accessories, and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. James Poole, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in blue with blue and white accessories, and a red rosebud corsage.

Cutting the wedding cake at the reception in the church parlors were Mrs. James Storey, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Ted Williams, of Fort Klamath. Serving punch was Miss Miriam Brown, with Mrs. Leo Poole passing the guest book.

In charge of the gift table were Mrs. Herbert Peterson of Spokane, and Mrs. James Poole, Jr.

For going-away, the new Mrs. Poole wore a grey suit with pink accessories. Following a short honeymoon, the couple will be "at home" in Mill City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bassett (Ursula Witt) left Monday for Glendale, Cal., after spending several weeks here with her parents, the Otto Witts, and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bassett of Lyons. The younger Mrs. Bassett and little son, Francis, were in Oregon for about two months, due to the ill health of her mother.

Several members of the Lions Club Auxiliary assisted in the care of young children Sunday afternoon in Salem during the Institute for Parents of visually handicapped children held at the School for the Blind. Helping from here were Mabel Nelson, Faustina Nesbitt, Mabel Hunter, also Frances Nesbitt and Carol Veness.

Miss Frances Nesbitt celebrated her 12th birthday anniversary with a party at her home from 2 until 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Games, gifts and refreshments were the chief diversions for the guests. Those invited included Bernice Potter, Marie Baker, Sandra Thomas, Carol Merrill, Rita Malde, Sandra Meader, Faith Baughman, Claire Melting, Brian Moffatt, Teddy Fisher, Kenneth Bolstad, Don Williams, James Melner, and the hostess, Frances Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blazek and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buckner of Jefferson spent on Thursday night until Saturday night fishing at East Lake. They caught their limit, but the weather was anything but nice up there. Saturday morning they were greeted with about three inches of snow and stated their lines froze to the poles when they first went out onto the lake.

Members of the Three-Links club were entertained for their regular social meeting at the Oddfellows Hall Tuesday evening, with Marie Stewart and Mabel Yankus as hostesses. Twelve members were in attendance. At the close of the business session, refreshments were served to Ida Fleetwood, Ruby Brisbin, Ruth Hess, Anna Crook, Dean Jackson, Alma Thomas, Lettie Swan, Blanche Sylverson, Mel Robinson and Ada Plymale.

During the regular business meeting of the Santiam Rebekahs at the lodge hall last week, reports from the District convention at Grant Pass were given by Dean Jackson, Antonia Thomas, and Ida Fleetwood, who attended. A new, white Bible was put into use for the first time at the meeting, which was presided over by the Noble Grand, Mrs. Fred Duffy. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by a committee made up of Clara Morris, Marie Stewart, Ruby Brisbin, and Eva Duffy.

George Rambo and Ralph Jull are attending Boys State in Salem this week, sponsored by the American Legion and the Mill City Boosters. Also attending is Allen Vail of Gates, sponsored by the Gates PTA. The boys were taken to Salem by John Muir and Bob Pratt. A group from the Mill City Legion will go to Salem Friday afternoon to hear the National Commander address Boys State. The public is invited to attend. Those going from here plan to leave about 3 p. m.

Out-of-town guests in the home of Mrs. Agness Allen, coming to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Nina Knight, were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jenks of Spokane, cousins. Mrs. Peterson was one of Mrs. Allen's bridesmaids 52 years ago. Mrs. Jenks is the granddaughter of the aunt who mothered Mrs. Allen after she was orphaned at the age of three months. Others were Mrs. Bertha Parker of Eugene, sister-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hart of Springfield; Mrs. Marian Williams, Enid, Jay and Martha, of Fort Klamath and Mr. and Mrs. Lealnd Parsons, Mrs. Della Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Laze Barton and Tommy and Miss Evelyn Boody of Salem, members of Mrs. Allen's Bible class.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?
