DETROIT

By Boots Champion

Linda Lee and Donna Dee, six-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown, who enrolled at the Detroit school this fall is the third generation of the Stahlman family to attend school in Detroit. Their great grandfather the late Fred W. Stahlman came to Detroit from Michigan in 1893. Here he met and married Fannie V. Smith. Seven children were born to that union in the old town of Detroit. The twins' grandmother, now Mrs. Ethel Estey was the first generation of the Stahlman family attending school in the old town of Detroit. Her son, Gordon Brown, was the second. Mrs. Estey states there is a considerable difference in the modern school her grandchildren attend today and the one-room school she attended in the old town.

Mrs. Estey and her brother, Earl Stahlman have resided in Detroit for over 50 years. As a child she recalls the ox teams that hauled logs into John Smith's mill, the hotel and general store owned by her father's sister, Mrs. Hallie Jacobs, and the saloon owned by John Daly.

Other old timers still residing here are Gates Cochran, Jim Giebler, Lester White, and his sister, Mabel Parker and Harry Christian.

Stahlman Point Lookout is named in honor of Fred Stahlman, who was an employee of the forest service for many years.

Jim Stahlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stahlman is attending Detroit high school.

The Detroit school carnival date has been changed again from September 24th to September 25th. The date was changed so it would not conflict with a football game scheduled September 24 at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Layman left here Sunday evening on a week's vacation to Toledo and Newport, where they plan on doing some fishing. They took their cabin cruiser along.

Attending the party at Meander Inn in Mill City Friday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Charlie (Chuck) Wirkkala, were Mr. and Mrs. John Meals, Audrey Layman, Marion Kite, Ann Stevens, Boots Champion, and Jake Fischer of Detroit, and Ruth Wetzel of Portland. The Wirkkals were recently married. Mr. Wirkkala, an Burning of slashing got under way Monday in the Straight Creek area, (Packett Logging Co) Central Blow Out (M&M Woodworking Co.) and Gale Hill, Boulder Ridge (Linn Plywood.) Slashing is being burned by the respective logging companies under the supervision of the forest service. If weather conditions remain good slashing will also be set off at Cedar Creek by the forest service.

A meeting of the Marion County PTA school of instruction was held Wednesday, September 15 in the dining room of the First Methodist church in Salem. Members of the Deanna PTA attending from Idanha were Mrs. Lon Everly, Mrs. Frank New, Mrs. Al Snyder, and Mrs. Jack Gulliford. Harold Regele, principal of the Detroit-Idanha school also attended. A teachers reception will be held at the regular PTA meeting September 23 at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria of the Detroit school. Refreshments will be served.

The sophomores held their annual initiation of the freshmen Monday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at Detroit school. The freshmen in all sorts of get-ups and dress were put through the paces with ease by the sophomores. No broken bones were reported. Freshmen are Laura Lee O'Brien and Jack Butler of Detroit; Margaret Smith, Anna Lee Sandlin, Daryl Shepard, Cara Lee Whitten and Billy Cokenour of Idanha. In the evening the sophomores entertained the freshmen at a party held in the school gym. Dancing and games were enjoyed by the group. Refreshments were served.

Weekend guests at the Joe Leis Lake Shore cabins were Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and family of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Martin of Rickreal. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones of Corvallis were callers in Detroit Saturday looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Vaughn, who moved here a short time ago returned to their home in Forest Grove Sunday. While here Mr. Vaughn was employed as a trucker for Pamela Lumber Co.

A young man apparently suffering from amnesia regained his memory Sunday when visited by his wife and three-year-old son. He was identified as Warner C. Guab, 27, Salem. His condition was first noticed when he wandered into a store in Idanha last Wednesday. He was taken to Salem for treatment.

Nurrudin Ahamd of Pakistan, who has been a guest of the Detroit forest service since September 7 left here Saturday. Ahamd, who is employed by the Government of East Bengal of India as deputy conservator of forests, and division forest officer, came to the United States to study forestry practices. His visit and tour of the Willamette National Forest was in that capacity. He left here Saturday for Roseburg, where he will make a study of the Umpqua forest. Ahamd holds a BS degree in botany with honors, and also a diploma in forestry from the Indian college in Calcutta.

Again the streets and highways of the state are alive with school children, and another responsibility faces the drivers of the state. That of protecting the kids. Watch for them at the cross walks, darting out from behind parked cars, or from the playground in pursuit of a ball. Remember Oregon's "Operation T. I. E."—Take It Easy—and don't forget—if you won't drive safely—you can't drive in Oregon.

Applications Available for Controlled Area Hunts

Application blanks are now available throughout the state at the game commission license agencies for permits to hunt in five controlled areas later this fall.

There is one controlled deer season being held near Bend in the Alfalfa area. The other four controlled seasons on elk and will be in the Tillamook, Walla Walla, Promise and north fork of the John Day river areas.

Applications for permits to hunt these areas must be submitted on official application blanks and will be rejected if not completely and correctly filled out.

All applications must be in the Portland office of the game commission by 10 a. m., October 19, and drawings will be held at 10 a. m., October 28. Game commission employees are not permitted to apply for permits to hunt in these or any other controlled areas.

One new ruling on the controlled season hunts will eliminate any person without a permit for hunting in the areas. The 1954 game synopsis states that, each area having a controlled season in progress will be closed during that period to hunting for all other species of wild animals and wild birds.

Complete descriptions of the areas to be included in the controlled hunts may be found in the 1954 hunting synopsis, available at game commission agencies.

Do you know how many rewards there are for reducing? A lighter step, clearer complexion, brighter eyes and steadier nerves, to mention a few. To collect these rewards, go easy on starchy foods and fill in with salads, fresh fruits and vegetables.

Here's a suggestion for a fine winter salad. Arrange sliced beets, hard-cooked eggs and onion attractively on crisp lettuce. Combine 2/3 cup French dressing and 1/2 cup real mayonnaise for a perfect accompaniment.

For the lunch box crowd, give that old favorite, the tuna fish sandwich, a new look—make tuna boats. First, split and spread sides of frankfurter rolls with sandwich spread; fill with drained, flaked tuna. Add crisp celery, cookies, a tangerine—and you have a deluxe lunch box!

Did holiday entertaining leave spots on your rugs? If so, here's a hint or two for proper home cleaning: Powder cleaners, rubbed into the rug and then removed with a vacuum cleaner, are best for all except cotton. Ammonia and alkalis should not be used. Solvents should be avoided (except for grease stains) as they leave rings.
