

"7" WON'T WORK here's why

- ★ Interferes with Oregon's program to conserve and maintain the salmon resource.
- ★ Would idle more than 1800 fishermen and $11,680,000 equipment.
- ★ Closes every Oregon coastal port south of Astoria to commercial salmon fishermen.
- ★ Grabs for a few a resource that belongs to all the people of Oregon.

GATES

Mrs. Albert Millsap

This place has been a city of hunting widows for the past two weeks. First it was for deer, now for ducks and geese. In some cases the wives accompanied their husbands but often it is their fate to remain at home, to keep the home fires burning, the kiddies in school, cook the meat and "clean" the birds. We haven't heard too many complaints, only from the wives, whose husbands failed to "bring home the bacon."

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klutke went on a hunting trip to Big Lake with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Farman, of Mill City and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Walker, of Albany. No luck.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kelle went to Eastern Oregon to get their buck, but returned empty handed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mills and son, Bill, of Newport, spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Kelle. Mrs. Kelle's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Salmon, who had spent the summer here at the Kelle home, returned recently to their home in Chicago.

Mrs. Orville Nygaard joined her mother-in-law, Mrs. Olle Nygaard, of Salem, Wednesday at luncheon at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elmer Brown, of Mill City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Church and his mother, Mrs. Nora Church, from Renton, Wash., were house guests at the home of Mrs. Len Young last week. Mrs. Young and her guests visited Mr. Young Sunday in Albany where he is hospitalized.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim White, who have lived on the Mollet place, in Niagara for the past year moved this week to Gates and will occupy the Britton home, better known as the Jerry Lyons residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorland Swan and babies, Kathy and Mienael visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Swan's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Millsap.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, of Portland, Mrs. Gwen Scaer and family and Mrs. Frankie Johnson and son, Royal, spent Sunday in Central Oregon, where they visited Peterson's Rock Gardens.

Sunday evening guests at the home of Mrs. Lillie Lake and her father, L. T. Henness, were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Roten, Susan and Freddie, from Mill City and Mrs. Forrest Nydegger and three daughters, Shirley, Beverly and Mable, and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Hunt and Duane, all of Lyons.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Struckmeier took a four-day vacation the last of the week, visiting in Chehalis, Washington and Portland. The Gates Variety was closed during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Henness were dinner guests Sunday at the Edmund Davis residence. Mrs. Henness and Mrs. Davis are brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis just returned Tuesday from Seattle, where they had visited their daughter and family, Mrs. James Overlock, while Mr. Overlock was in Chicago. They also visited their son, Edmund Jr., in Tacoma, before returning home.

Mrs. Jesse Haywood was surprised Saturday evening, when Mrs. Henry Hershberger, daughter Lois and son, Darrel and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hostetter and daughter Shery, all of Mill City, called, bringing a birthday cake, to help her celebrate the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson had as their guests, Friday, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McFadden, of Boise, Idaho. The Wilsons and McFaddens were former neighbors while residents in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Parker, of Los Angeles, were guests at the C. M. Edholm residence, Friday. Mrs. Parker is Mrs. Edholm's niece, whom she had not seen for 35 years, when they both were youngsters.

Portland guests Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kist, were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reznik and her mother, Mrs. Rockwall Wilson, all former Portland neighbors. Friday, Mr. Kist visited his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dixon, in Portland and in Woodburn at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bilyeu.

A house guest at the Walter Brisbin home for this week, is Mr. Brisbin's sister, from Grant Pass, Mrs. Anna Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rynearson had as their guests Mrs. Rynearson's cousin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Claude McNamee, who were enroute to Montana from Alaska, where they spend each summer. Their home is in Canby.

Norman Carey and son, Ronny, of Albany spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Velma Carey, at her home. Mrs. Carey's youngest son, Pvt. James Carey, who has been stationed at Camp Gordan, Georgie, has been transferred to Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he is attending motion picture school.

1955 FARM CROP PRICE OUTLOOK ISSUED BY OSC

Price outlook for oats and barley next year in Oregon is just fair, a little brighter for say, and both bright and dark for seeds, reports the latest "Agricultural Situation and Outlook" prepared by extension agricultural economists at Oregon State college.

Support prices coupled with local rains and midwest drouth have combined to put strength into barley and oats market this fall. But even if supports are available in 1955, Oregon prices will likely be somewhat lower than this fall. Odds favor large carry-over and large crops of these grains next year.

The state's hay supply, according to current estimates, is about five percent smaller than a year earlier but about the same as in 1952. With more livestock to feed, hay prices seem likely to be a little higher this winter than last. This market strength will likely extend into the summer although good pastures and an open winter could change the picture again.

Smitty's Not-So-Silent Partner

Dropped into Smitty's gas station last week and met his new partner who turned out to be a real talker.

"What'll it be?" asked Smitty. Before I had a chance to answer I heard a strange voice "Fill her up! Fill her up!" And there was Smitty's partner—one of those parakeets perched next to the gas pump.

"Took me a month," Smitty said, "but I finally taught him to say those magic words. It's sure paid off—he's had a good influence on my customers."

From where I sit, Smitty's bird may be good for business—and may get him a few laughs. But when people act like parakeets, they're not so funny. For instance, those who keep insisting over and over again that their neighbors shouldn't have a glass of temperate beer with their supper now and then. They're simply repeating their own ideas, without any regard for the rights of others.
