Motor Fuel Sales Increase in August

Oregon motor vehicle fuel sales jumped 13 percent in August to break all previous records for a single month.

The total was 63,899,023 gallons, up 7,513,225 gallons over August a year ago. State gasoline taxes for the month amounted to $3,833,914.40, approximately 11 per cent of which will be refunded for vehicles operated on private lands.

In terms of street and highway travel, the August gallonage indicates Oregon drivers rolled approximately 731 million miles during the month, a new all-time high. Mileage is estimated from an average miles-per-gallon figure computed by the Public Roads administration.

Traffic fatalities in August reached 39 for a rate of 5.3 deaths in each 100 million miles of travel. The rate was 5.2 in August of 1954.

George Steffy's Fix Attractive Place at Home in Las Vegas

Following is an article which appeared in a recent issue of The Las Vegas Sun, and tells something of the work done by Mr. and George Steffy, former Mill City residents. The article follows:

A genuine zest for living combined with artistic appreciation and a practical approach to the good neighbor policy, has led a North Las Vegas couple into development of a project which can best be described as unique.

Mr. and Mrs. George Steffy, of Federal Park Homes, have established at the corner of Glendale avenue and White street what is perhaps the most glamorous telephone booth bus stop and general neighborhood center in all of southern Nevada.

The phone booth, completely equipped with electrical clock, mirror and entertainment guide, is focal point of an area which is artistically planted with cacti and young shade trees.

Directly back of the booth and partially enclosed with a high rustic fence, is a restful cabana, for the comfort of waiting bus patrons.

The Steffys—thinking of every angle—have equipped the cabana with plug-ins for electric toaster and coffee pot. Music is piped from the Steffy residence to the area. Indirect lighting provides subtle illumination.

George and Aline Steffy, with a continual flair for the unusual, also maintain a subterranean dog house for their two prize black and white Cocker.

To prove that man is indeed the dog's best friend, this lucky pair now happily beat the heat in a 6x6 underground kennel excavated in the Steffy back yard.

Nothing, if not luxurious, the kennel, in which a tall man can stand upright, boasts its own intercom system. From a speaker at the bedside, the Steffys are able to quiet canine "children" at any hour of the night.

Santiam Valley Grange Takes in New Members

LYONS—The regular meeting of Santiam Valley Grange was held Friday evening at the hall with Master Jake Myers presiding. The first and second degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. Steve Myers, Mrs. Beulah Bowes, and Mrs. Inez Cornett, followed by the regular order of business.

M&M Net Increases Over Last Year

Consolidated net earnings of the M & M Wood Working company in the six months ending August 31, first half of the firm's fiscal year, amounted to $1,618,113, or $1.13 per share, President Clay Brown reported recently. This compared with $1,119,882, or 78c per share in the same period last year.

The $500,000 gain was made in spite of a strike in the second quarter period, he said.

Consolidated sales for the six months totaled $20,712,407 as against $16,602,160 last year. Brown said that stability of the plywood and lumber market and increased volume of plywood and door sales contributed to the sales increase.

It was voted to change meeting nights in November due to elk season. The social meeting will be held Friday, November 4, with the business meeting, Friday, November 12. Refreshments were served.
