Alice Magill Weds Horace McCarley, Jr.

MEHAMA—Alice Magill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown of Bridge, was united in marriage to Horace McCarley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McCarley, Sr., of Mehama at an 8 o'clock service Wednesday evening, July 16, at the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Lloyd R. Swenson, pastor, read the doubling ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli, carnations and daisies, and candelabra entwined with ivy formed a pretty setting for the wedding party.

The bride was gowned in an afternoon dress of blue grey sheer with bodice made in an off the shoulder effect and a full soft pleated skirt. She wore a matching wreath in her hair, holding a short veil, and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Attending the couple were the bride's sister, Mrs. James Myers, as matron of honor and James Myers as best man. Mrs. Myers wore an afternoon dress, chemise style in aqua blue, with blue velvet bow at one side. She carried a nosegay of white carnations tied with a pale lavender bow.

Ushers were Dick Myers and James Weathers, who also lighted the candles. Mrs. Aasen, church organist, played the wedding music.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Brown chose an afternoon dress in grey print, with which she wore a red rosebud corsage.

A reception followed in the church social room. The newlyweds made the initial cut in the beautiful tiered wedding cake which had been decorated by Mrs. Dave Waterman. Mrs. T. G. Davis served the cake and Miss Mary Ellen Hardman, a cousin of the bride poured the coffee. Mrs. J. M. Myers presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. James Weathers had charge of the guest book.

Following a honeymoon to the coast and Diamond Lake the new Mr. and Mrs. McCarley are to be at home in Bridge.

No Cooking Peach Jam Is Thrifty

Frozen peach jam that requires no cooking offers an easy, toothsome, and thrifty way to make use of the abundant Oregon peach crop. Home economics extension specialists at Oregon State college provide this recipe. It makes 9 six-ounce glasses.

Ingredients: 3 cups crushed peaches (or 2½ pounds); 5 cups sugar; 1 package powdered pectin; 1 cup water. To prepare the fruit, wash and drain peaches, remove pits, skins and crush.

To make the jam measure 3 cups of crushed peaches into a large mixing bowl. Add sugar, mix well, and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Dissolve pectin in water, and bring to a boil. Boil for one minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit-and-sugar mixture, and stir for two minutes.

Ladle the jam into glasses or into suitable freezer containers, leaving ½ inch space at the top. Cover the containers and let stand for 24 to 48 hours, or until jam has set. Then cover with a thin layer of hot paraffin.

Store some of the uncooked jam in the refrigerator for use within the next few months, and freeze the rest, specialists advise.

If jam is left at room temperature it will mold or ferment in a short time. Once a container is opened the jam should be kept in the refrigerator and used within a few days.
