Monday evening, Chas. Kelley and Lee Ross drove to Jefferson to attend the Lions Club meeting there, and plan to attend one at Albany on Wednesday. That will be the last of the "official visits" until after the "Christmas rush" at the post office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kimmel, and Mr. and Mrs. William Shuey were guests Sunday in McMinnville of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Willoughby. They all attended the McMinnville Garden Clubs' annual Christmas show. At this show, individuals, business firms, and clubs place arrangements on display. The Mill City visitors said it was a successful show, and they saw many original ideas carried out in the display.

It is announced that a free-will offering will be taken in conjunction with the Christmas cantata "All Folk on Earth Do Sing," to be presented by the choir at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 Sunday evening, December 21. Any funds collected will go toward the church improvement fund. Baby sitting for pre-school children will be provided in Fellowship hall during the cantata. The public is invited to attend.

"The Story of the First Christmas" will be presented by the choir of the First Christian Church Sunday evening, December 1 at 7:30. The Kelly family, accompanied by Mary Gay ReMine, will return to Mill City shortly after the opening of school in January, but the ReMines expect to make a longer visit in the south.

P. T. A. Collects Food for Needy At Last Meeting

The PTA held its annual Christmas party in conjunction with the regular meeting in the high school library. Due to the inclement weather and other commitments, only about 35 persons attended.

President George Humphrey was in charge of the business session, during which Mrs. Al Nesbitt reported that over $70.00 was cleared in taking the recent school census. Other members assisted her in the project.

It was voted to donate $5 toward the Christmas fund at McLaren School for Boys near Woodburn.

In a report from the recently appointed "Welcoming Committee," it was announced that the city maps had been completed with a list of business houses on the back. These are to be given to all newcomers in the community, as well as to others to encourage membership.

The health chairman, Ethel Hutinson, stated that a well-child clinic is scheduled for Tuesday, December 23.

In the counting of parents present at the meeting, the prize for the largest representation went to Mrs. James Wright's second grade.

Announcement was made by Edith Mason, high school librarian, that the next meeting of the PTA will be highlighted by the initiation of new members into the high school Honor Society in an impressive candle-light ceremony.

Wednesday night's program was in charge of Mrs. William Lee, who also was responsible for the attractive and clever decorations. Entertainment included a "white elephant" gift exchange and the hilarious appearance of Santa Claus, who suspiciously resembled James Putman.

An added and worthwhile feature of the evening was the collection of pounds of food, called a "pound party," results of which were to be turned over to the Ministerial Society for later distribution to deserving families.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by a group of mothers of the sixth graders.

LYONS—Ann Holzfuss, Doris Roy, Naomi Int Veld and Elizabeth Carter were hostesses for the December meeting of the Lyons Garden club and Christmas party held in the fireplace room at the Lyons Methodist church Wednesday afternoon.

A short business session was held with election of officers the main business. Elected were Donna Asmusen president, Virgene Scott, vice president and Alma Spelmeyer secretary-treasurer. Plans were also made for some of the members to attend the winter flower shows held at Stayton and Scio on Friday and Saturday. At the close of the meeting lovely refreshments were served with the table beautifully decorated carrying out the Christmas motif and home made candy.

Election of officers was held at the Round Robin Pinochle club held at the home of Mrs. Al Yankus Monday night. Mrs. Leo Poole was elected, president; Mrs. Jay Mason, vice president and Mrs. Don Moffatt, secretary and treasurer. Winning high at pinochle that evening was Mrs. Aray Podrabsky. Pinochle was won by Mrs. Al Yankus and Mrs. Burton Boroughs was low.
