GATES

Mrs. H. N. Wilson

The benefit coffee for the Camp Fire girls will be held at the William Pennick home Thursday, February 12. There will be antiques, and the hostesses will wear old fashioned gowns as the Centennial theme is used. Mrs. Pennick will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Kelle, and friends or anyone interested is invited to call between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m.

Allen Vail, who is employed at Seattle, spent last weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vail.

The Little Budget Shop, sponsored by the Firemen's Auxiliary in the library of the Gates school will be open Friday, February 6, and the first Friday of each month until further notice. However, the good used bargains can be seen at any time if any member of the Auxiliary is contacted. Mrs. Don McWhirk is secretary-treasurer.

Terry Lee Collins has been a patient at Santiam Memorial hospital this week with an attack of peritonitis, which followed an earlier hospitalization. He is the 13-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins, who just recently moved, with their children, to a house by Madereek.

The workday last Saturday at the Gates Community church was very successful. Oliver Watson, Harold Morton, Willard Howell, Clare Henness, Charles Collins and R. L. Freeman made a good showing on the singing job on the new Sunday school room, under the direction of Bob Blumenstein. Several young boys worked diligently and all enjoyed a pot luck dinner at noon. Marcia Barnhardt assisted in serving. Another work day has been planned for February 7, weather permitting. Pot luck dinner, also.

Youth Week was observed at the Gates Community church Sunday, and the services were in charge of the following: Maria McWhirk, Marcia Barnhardt, Sharon Hirte, Cheryl Hirte, Barbara Hirte, Bernice Potter, Barbara Blumenstein, Gary Collins, Judy Kadin and Jim Gulliford. The slogan for the day was "We feel that this is the end of your search for a friendly church!"

Friday, February 27 has been set as the date for the Centennial Coffee to be given by the Gates Woman's club in their clubhouse. An exhibit of antiques will be shown, and anyone having interesting items is asked to bring them. Also, it is hoped many will come in old fashioned costumes. Centennials don't come very often, you know!

Mr. and Mrs. William Pennick and two children spent the weekend visiting in Astoria at the home of her uncle, Lionel Colgan, who is still hospitalized. Mrs. C. E. Ball and daughter, of Great Lakes, Ill., a daughter of the Colgans, were house guests, also, called by the illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller spent several days in Salem last week where Mr. Miller had several teeth extracted. A family dinner was held at the Ed Kadin home January 22, it being the wedding anniversary for the Kadin's and Ed Kadin's birthday also. Others present to enjoy the happy affair were their daughter, Mrs. Dick Parker and three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Root, Judy Kadin, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kadin and two children of Mill City.

Dick Parker spent the weekend with his family, returning again to his construction work at Hemlock, Wash.

Max Greenough has retired from the Don Marshall Saw shop and Mr. Palmer will run the shop which features Homelite Chain saws. The Greenough family plans to visit several places before going to Boise, Idaho, to make their home. He will again be in the saw business, and it is hoped the change of climate will benefit his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carey and three sons of Stayton, visited Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Velma Carey.

Mrs. Daniel Kadin and daughter, of Medford were houseguests at the Ed Kadin home last week. On Friday

A Century In Linn County

By Doris Gundersen

The oldest furniture factory in the entire West is in Linn county, R. Veal and Son, established nearly a century ago in Albany.

Robert Veal, an engineer who started a sawmill in Linn county when he first came, bought the furniture factory from its first owner, (name not readily remembered) in 1885., with his son Fred.

The factory first made rawhide-seated chairs, and still does, but it now makes fine furniture of Linn county upland maple besides.

Their maple chairs with hawhide seats are shipped evenly to New York, and they sell regularly within 11 Western states, and occasionally in Alaska, Kansas and Texas.

The present owners are the daughter-in-law and three grandchildren of Robert Veal.

evening Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kadin and daughter, Judy, and their houseguests, joined a family gathering at the Dick Parker home, it being the birthday of Mrs. Margie Parker. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kadin, and two sons, of Medford, Mrs. Mattie Root, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kadin and two children of Mill City. Mrs. Parker received gifts, and all enjoyed the birthday cake and an informal evening.

There will be a pot-luck dinner at the Gates Community church next Sunday, February 8, following the morning service. There will be a Board meeting in the afternoon.

Rex Herron spent the weekend at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Novack. He is now employed at the Oxbow Hatchery near Cascade Locks.

Jesse Butler went to Stayton this week for a medical checkup, and is spending some time resting up at his home here.

Don and Gale Carey of Stayton were working in their strawberry and boysenberry patches at the Carey farm over the weekend. Many things are far advanced for this time of year, making an early Spring likely.
