GATES

Mrs. H. N. Wilson

Mrs. Walter Brisbin celebrated a birthday last week, and cards and a birthday cake were shared with her at the meeting of the Women's club Thursday.

After many delays in the production of the cook book being sponsored by the Gates Community church, it will be appearing soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peterson and two small sons of Marion Forks were guests Saturday evening at the H. N. Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Flemming of Scio were dinner guests Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novak and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rosamond and two children spent the weekend at Cottage Grove with Mr. and Mrs. John Pitcher, honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Pitcher and Mr. Rosamond.

At a recent school board meeting all Gates teachers and school personnel were rehired for another year, teachers to receive their annual $180 a year raise.

A benefit program for the Boy Scouts sponsored by the Mill City Jaycees is coming up soon. It will be April 1 and 2 at the grade school gym.

A whole evening will be spent in showing pictures of the canyon by Forrest Holman.

Many members of the Gates Community church are planning to attend the sunrise services at the First Christian church in Mill City at 6:30 on Easter morning. Directly after this they will gather at the Gates school, where the CYF group will prepare and serve an Easter breakfast in the cafeteria. This was a feature of last Easter's program, and so much enjoyed, it was decided to repeat. A special program is planned for morning services, featuring musical numbers by the young folks accompanied by Arlin Rothhaugh on a special guitar made by him.

There will be another work day on the Gates Sunday school this Saturday, March 28. Volunteer workers under the direction of Bob Blumenstein, have made rapid progress, and the new room will soon be ready for occupancy. A pot luck dinner as usual, is planned at noon.

Church members plan to meet at the schoolhouse Saturday evening, at 7:30 for a "sing." Many also plan to attend the special services on Friday at the Presbyterian church in Mill City at 7:30 p. m.

Santiam Canyon Extension unit will meet today, March 26 at 10:30 a. m. in the Gates Women's clubhouse. The topic will be "Household Insects," and there will be a potluck lunch at noon. Everyone welcome.

Michael, Ronny and Susan Jensen were houseguests this week of their cousins, Louis and Kathy Kelle. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kelle and children drove to Eugene to return them to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen. While in Eugene the Kelle's visited with former Gates residents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Nygaard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Levon and daughter, Lori, were hosts for a dinner and birthday party Sunday honoring the birthday of Bob. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Abplanalp and two children of Portland, Mrs. Frankie Johnson and son Royal, Mrs. Gwenn Schaefer and John, Rodney Roger and Carol Schaefer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Turnidge spent Saturday at the coast, mostly in the Newport area.

The date of the Council Fire presented by the local Bluebird and Campfire groups has been set for Thursday evening April 9th in the Gates Women's clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Henness of Beaverton spent the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Henness. Mrs. Keith Henness and two children, who have been guests at the Henness home before moving to Salt Lake City, are spending this week with her family at Mehama.

Mrs. George Arthurs entertained Friday afternoon at her home, honoring the birthdays of her two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Walter Brisbin and Mrs. Oscar Osterhout. Other guests included Mrs. Joe Novak, Mrs. Dorothy Newberg and Toni, Mrs. Birdie Wilson and three children and Mrs. Hazel Devine, who also had a birthday this week. Following an exchange of gifts, all enjoyed cake and ice cream together.

Word has just been received that Rodney Klecker arrived Friday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hap Klecker in Stayton, after a stay in Walter Reed hospital, where he underwent surgery. He will be remembered as the grandson of Albert Millsap, and just received his military discharge after a stay of almost two years in the army, stationed in the East the whole time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moses spent a couple of days at the coast the first of the week, visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Franzen at Neskowin. Guests over the weekend at the Moses home were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McConnell of Klamath Falls. McConnell is a brother of Mrs. Moses.

Mrs. Velma Carey attended the annual convention of OSFSA at Gresham Thursday. After attending this gathering of cooks and other personnel, in fact, anyone interested in food service, she drove to Portland, and spent the rest of the weekend visiting her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carey and two daughters, Diane and Beverly.

Gates Oldtimer To Be On Centennial Wagon Trek

GAES—One of the oldtimers of Gates, Weaver Clark, and his grandson, Robert Fineout, both of Hillsboro, are now on their way to Independence, Mo., where they will join the wagon trek back over the Old Oregon Trail. It is reported they built and rigged up their own wagon for the caravan, and it has been shipped to Missouri.

The trip back is supposed to start April 19th, and will end at Independence, Oregon in about 135 days. Each wagon is sponsored by someone or some town, and souvenirs and donations will be sold along the way to help finance the trip.

The Clark family will be remembered by many folks in this area, where some relatives still reside. The Weaver Clark home was purchased by Adam Shepherd, and is now occupied by the Bob Wilson family.

Deer Seem To Be on Increase Says Writer

By Jean Roberts

MEHAMA—A good deal of concern was expressed in the Mehama area a few years ago, when the first either sex deer season was introduced in Oregon.

Evidence of deer recently however, seems to belie the concern that deer herds would be wiped out, Ray Roberts reports counting 34 deer one evening between Mehama and his home; a distance of two miles.

It is far easier to see the deer at this time of year when the leaves are off, than it is during hunting season.

Keith Phillips, whose ranch has been a veritable game refuge for many years, now finds that he is over populated with deer and has been obtaining permits to kill them, before they wipe out his alfalfa field.

Use old nylon hose to stuff a pillow for your pet. The pillow can be washed and dried in a jiffy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ward were dinner guests Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bergholz in Mill City.

The CYF group of the Gates Community church drove to Idanha Sunday afternoon where they were guests of the Community church there and a special moving picture and service was featured.

Pollen To Be Heavy This Year Says Health Man

By Dr. Harold M. Erickson
Oregon State Health Officer

I recently noticed that the hazel and fibert pollen counts were substantial during January in the Portland area. This is probably true throughout much of Oregon because of the mild winter, which has hedged pollenation. The Oregon representative of the American Academy of Allergy believes that if this weather continues we will have an early and very heavy pollen season.

Generally, the Oregon pollen problem begins with the trees and runs through the weeds, grasses and holds until summer. Then, while residents of most other states continue to suffer from runny noses and red watery eyes, Oregonians usually can forget about pollen allergies.

This is true primarily because of our relative freedom from ragweed, which perhaps is the most troublesome of the American pollen-producers. A great many people vacation here each year, or have made Oregon their permanent home, simply to escape the sometimes-fatal effects of this weed in the midwest and east.

Counts of ragweed pollen throughout Oregon last year showed extremely low readings in the western part of the State where the Dept. of Agriculture is now conducting a control program, but comparatively high readings in the Milton-Freewater area of eastern Oregon where no control was provided by the Legislature. Allergy experts believe that this effective control program should be strengthened and broadened.

The State Board of Health has circulated counts from the Portland area to newspapers, radio and television stations during the past few years, and we receive hundreds of letters and phone calls from people seeking advice about their allergies. Such pollen counts indicate only what might be expected by the average allergy victim; for specific information on your own problem you should see your private physician.
