TIMBERLINE

By John E. Benneth

Whenever Oregonians get to worrying too much about where we stand in the race into space, the worldwide battle for men's minds and hosts of similar problems, they can take some comfort in the pre-eminence of the Pacific Northwest in one international field: The Douglas fir region is one of the world's leading areas for growing timber giants.

This reassurance is offered by a man who ought to know—William H. Cummings, forestry research supervisor for Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., Centralia, Wash. Here are some of the examples he ticks off:

Of 30-some members of the popular family in the world, no other one grows as fast or as big as the Northwest black cottonwood.

The commercial red alder of the Pacific Northwest is unexcelled by alders anywhere else in its speed of growth, mature size and quality of its wood.

No other spruce in commerce compares in growth, size and quality with our native Sitka spruce.

Our West Coast hemlock is unsurpassed by any other hemlock in growth size and quality.

Western red cedar—which sometimes grows to a huge 16-foot diameter—has no match among cedars. Other cedars are shrimps next to it.

And the lofty Douglas fir is, of course, the crowning glory of the region. These towering giants can easily exceed 200 feet in height. On a good site, Douglas fir has been known to grow 2,500 board feet an acre in a year. This is a really high growth rate when compared, for example, with 500 board feet an acre which is considered good for southern pine. Many foreign countries have transplanted this fabled species into their own lands, and Douglas fir is now becoming significant in the forest economies of England and Denmark where major introduction occurred in the 1920s.

This explains why European foresters visiting the United States inevitably gravitate to the Northwest to see this amazing timber empire.

"All in all," says Cummings, "this region has tremendous timber potentialities."

Tree Farm a Haven

One of the safest places to work in Oregon is on Crown Zellerbach's Stamm Tree Farm which lies between St. Helens and Vernonia. The company's logging division there recently gave 60 employees a banquet to celebrate its fourth year without a lost-time accident.

The Industrial Accident Commission was on hand to present its award of merit, which now joins 19 other plaques in the trophy case, including the Governor's Logging Safety Award and two National Safety Council awards.

"The last time I remember a lost-time accident around here," says Glenn Hawkins, Columbia division superintendent, "was when a timber faller slipped and fell and went home for half a day as a precaution. Breaking the record hurt him more than the fall."

Along The Lead Line

Sensors and congressmen in Washington, D. C., found colorful Keep Green placemats carrying a reminder of Oregon's Centennial at their tables in the capitol coffee shop recently. Some 1,200 were supplied by the Keep Oregon Green Assn., Salem. Poets have long talked of whispering trees, but to coal miners the loblolly pine cries in agony. Working deep in the earth with millions of tons of rock over them, miners feel more secure if tunnel supports are made from the groaning tree. If pressure above become so great that a cave-in is impending, the loblolly props will fail in alarm. . . . Oregon is the nation's leading lumber-producing state.

GATES

Mrs. H. N. Wilson

Gail Wilson was in Portland Sunday to visit his wife who recently underwent surgery in Emanuel Hospital. She was reported to be gaining and may return home this weekend.

Try MAURITA'S BEAUTY SHOP at Lyons for that permanent, shampoo and wave, or hairstyling. Telephone ULrick 9-2476. You'll like our work and service. 20

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brisbin drove to Portland to spend the weekend with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hackenberg. A trip to a nightclub and a steak dinner were enjoyed by the group.

Orville Hayward has recently purchased the small Barney Ryal's house and with his son Dickie will move there shortly.

The parking area next to the Women's Clubhouse now has four leads of sawdust chips, a much appreciated donation from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackburn were honored by a gathering of their family Sunday evening. All but one of their children were present, and cake and coffee was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. James Briles and daughter Terri of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Blackburn and two children of Mill City; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ball and daughter, Carol Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Heness, Kande, Gary and Susan Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trask of Albany, but formerly of Mill City, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ball.

Mrs. Glenn Henness and Mrs. Hollis Turnidge will be hostesses for a Coffee Hour in the Women's Clubhouse Thursday, May 21, from 2 to 4 p. m. This is one of the series sponsored by the Women's club, and open to everyone.

A short meeting of members of the Gates Women's club will be held directly following the coffee hour in the clubhouse Thursday. Plans for the coming Canyon Fair will be discussed, and new officers will take over officially.

Mrs. William Pennick accompanied the 8th grade class on their skip day last week. Carol Schaefer, Patsy Pennick, Alene Stevens, Judy Morton, and John Cupps all enjoyed swimming in the pool at Breitenbush Hot Springs, and a picnic lunch afterwards.

Mrs. Glenn Henness, Mrs. Harold Wilson and Mrs. Hollis Turnidge were guests at the home of Mrs. Wendell Jones at the Detroit Ranger station Thursday afternoon. Women from Detroit, Idanha, and Marion Forks were also present, and plans were made for some of the Food concessions at the coming Santiam Canyon Fair June 26-27-28.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Parker sold their home in Gates to Mrs. Maude Davis last week. Mrs. Davis sold her home to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver and three daughters, who will take possession immediately. They plan some remodeling.

Mrs. George Sauve and two children of Salem, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Richards on Saturday, and Ned Kanoff stayed over Sunday for a visit with his young friend, Billy Kershaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowes were hosts Saturday evening for the Gem pinochle club at their home. Gilbert Myers won high aggregate prize. First places went to Mrs. Margaret Phillips and Giles Wagner. Consolation prizes went to Steve Myers and Blanche Wagner. Delicious refreshments were served.

Several from Gates attended the Flower Show in Lyons last week, put on by the Mill City and Lyons Garden clubs. "Wheels of Time" was the theme this year, and the arrangements were varied and beautiful as usual. Guests enjoyed cookies and coffee and a small antique display. A lot of potted and bedding plants did a good business, as well as the home baked food table.

Mrs. Velma Carey and Mrs. Charles Tucker dined in Salem Friday evening with a group of associated cooks and assistants, for their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Minnie McCarty, of Portland, spent Sunday at the home of a life-long friend, Mrs. Daisy Richards, whose members of her family went further on to fish. Mrs. McCarty was raised in Mill City, and lived in the old Millsap house at Gates. She and Daisy Richards met on a July 4th excursion train from Yaquina to Detroit, one year after the railroad was put through here, and each were about 9 years old.

Several teachers and parents accompanied a school bus load of children to Eastern Oregon Friday for a most interesting field trip. They stopped to throw snowballs over the pass, encountered showers later, but most of the day was sunny. Lunch was at a tiny park by the John Day river, called Johnny Kirk Park. At Fossil they hunted for relics of bones, clams, rocks, and other specimen which were plentiful. A former Gates school teacher, Verne Kane, was also visited. A wiener roast was enjoyed at a very late hour at Indian Ford Park. About 16 deer were seen on the road as they came home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowes drove to Portland Sunday to return her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schobert to their home, following a week spent at the Bowes home here at Gates.

Joe Joaquin spent Sunday in Gates looking after his property here, and visiting his mother, Laura Joaquin, before returning to Portland.

Visitors this week at the Ned Richards home were Ed Smith and Mr. Kintz, of Sublimity, former employees of Marion County with Ned. Also Ed Taylor and his son, Elmer Taylor, both of Mehama, longtime friends.

James Carey flew to Pittsburgh on Monday on business, returning Friday. He is employed at Canby. He reported the flying trip very rough this time.

Fifteen CYF students attended a Retreat on the coast Friday and Saturday. Cars were furnished by Bill Putman and Mrs. Bill Hirte. Devotions and recreation were held at Harmony Lodge, and student minister A. John Rothauge was in charge. "The Rose" will be the theme for services next Sunday at the Gates Community church, and the sanctuary will be decorated with roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moses spent a couple of days at the coast last week, visiting at the home of her sister at Neskowin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Allen drove to Portland Friday to attend funeral services for Ernest F. Wade, a long time friend. Allen had Wade come to Oregon from Nebraska in about 1916, and have kept in touch ever since.

Final Rites Held Tuesday For Former Mill City Lady

Funeral services for Hazel Tarflinger DeWeerd, former Mill City resident who died May 14 at Page, Ariz., were Tuesday at 11 a. m. at Weddle Funeral Home Chapel, Stayton.

Officiating was the Rev. Don Leavitt. Burial was at Fox Valley Cemetery at Lyons beside her husband, who died in 1955. She had lived at Page, Ariz., for the past 18 months.

She was born in Champaign, Ill., Aug. 8, 1891, and was married to Herman De Weerd on March 8, 1942.

Surviving are two sons, Royal E. Losch, of Wenatchee, Wash., and William D. Marshall of Page, Ariz., a daughter, Mrs. Helen Marshall Bruemmer of Page, Ariz., five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

CHEVY GIVES YOU 7 BIG BESTS!

Take it, not from us, but from the published opinions of outside, independent experts and from on-the-record facts and figures: Chevrolet gives you these 7 big bests over any other car in its field!

BEST BRAKES

In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST STYLE

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling. . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably '59 in every modern line.

BEST TRADE-IN Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

†National Automobile Dealers Association

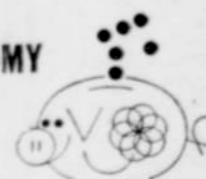

BEST ENGINE

Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

BEST ECONOMY

No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car.

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.7 inches wider than competitive cars.

†Automobile Manufacturers Association

BEST ROOM

PLUS THESE TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

Who'd want to do without Chevrolet's extra luxuries? Like Safety Plate Glass in every window, the protection of full wraparound bumpers, crank-operated ventipanes, the convenience of single-key locking, a real overhead curved windshield, oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters in every standard engine for quieter running, a bigger luggage compartment with side wall lining . . . and the convenience of automatic choke in every model!

BEST RIDE

You'll be able to tell this yourself. But MOTOR TREND magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Visit your local authorized Chevrolet dealer and see how much more Chevy has to offer!
