Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Whitaker of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shepherd returned Saturday from a week's vacation spent in Billings, Mont., Scotts Bluff, Neb., and Casper, Wyo.

Miss Anne Hirte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Hirte of Gates, is among the more than 880 students enrolled at Linfield college at McMinnville this year. Miss Hirte is a sophomore in sociology major. She attended Santiam High school before completing her high school studies at Salem.

John Clarke returned home this week following a visit in California with his daughter and granddaughter and a stop at Coos Bay where he visited with the Gene Armstrongs. They are former Mill City residents when he was the SP agent. Clarke left Tuesday for Klamath Falls where he was called by the serious illness of his mother.

Miss Connie Stewart, of Gates, who graduated from Santiam Union High last year is now employed in Salem as a telephone operator. She spent Thursday and Friday with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stewart. While in Mill City she subscribed to The Enterprise so she can keep up with the doings at "home."

Mrs. O. E. Hoedenpyle and Mrs. Ray Wooden and daughter were in Portland Friday to be with Mrs. Hoedenpyle's sister, Mrs. Lela Austin who underwent surgery at Emmanuel hospital Friday morning. Mrs. Hoedenpyle is at Oakridge this week with another sister, Mrs. Buford Anderson, who underwent surgery Monday at a Eugene hospital. Mrs. Hoedenpyle will care for the children as their father is also in the Eugene hospital where he is recovering from injuries he received a few weeks ago when he fell backwards from the top of a load of lumber at the sawmill where he is employed.

Genevieve Kesterson And Joe Yost Married At Church Here Sat.

Mrs. Genevieve Mary Kesterson and Joe Yost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yost of Sublimity were united in marriage Saturday September 26 at St. Catherine's Catholic Church in Mill City.

The 9 a. m. ceremony was performed by Father Gerrin of Sublimity with the bride given in marriage by Arthur Kerr.

The bride was gowned in a street dress of aqua crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was white gladioli and pink rosebuds.

Honor attendant was Mrs. George Ditter, wearing a navy blue gown with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Best man for the groom was George Ditter and altar boys were his twin brothers, Peter and Paul Yost.

Church decorations were pink and white dahlias used in effective arrangements.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Yost home in Sublimity. The couple left for a short wedding trip to Ocean Beach and are now at home in Mill City where he is employed as a logger.

Charles Davis, of Tawas City, Mich. visited a few days here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. (Mode) Davis. He has recently received his discharge from the Air Force where he was studying electronics and radar. He left Tuesday for Eugene to visit. He may continue his schooling in the near future.

Card of Thanks

I wish to extend my thanks to all you fine people who sent me the beautiful flowers and cards during my stay in the hospital, and for the many other thoughtful acts since I have returned home.—Lois.

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

EVERYBODY KEEP OUT OF THE POOL

Dear Amy:
Recently I bought a large swimming pool which I keep in the back yard of our house for my children and myself to enjoy on these hot summer days. I am very friendly with my neighbors around me and they have taken it upon themselves to send their children over every day to use our pool.

I have tried to get rid of them by reminding them that it's lunch time but they tell me their mothers said that it was all right to eat here. I've tried telling them they should go home to visit the bathroom and they say that they have already gone—in the pool. This in my opinion is most inconsiderate to put it mildly. I would like to know your opinion and also please tell me how to get rid of these unwanted bathers?
Very Annoyed

Dear Annoyed:
My opinion is the same as yours. Your uninvited bathers are too young to know that they are old enough to know better. It's up to you to blow your whistle and yell, "Everybody Keep Out Of The Pool!" Send the children back where they belong. Their mothers will get the idea or they're all wet!

Dear Amy:
I am engaged and we plan to be married very soon. My problem is that my boy friend is a musician and has frequent engagements playing at night clubs. I don't approve of him playing at clubs and want him to stop. He doesn't see anything wrong in it but I do. I feel places like that have too many temptations. Am I right or wrong?
Don's Gal

Dear Gal:
You're way off key. A musician in order to earn a living must accept playing engagements wherever they are available and you are wrong to inject a sour note. See to it that you are the one that arouses his temptations and he won't be tempted to look elsewhere.

Dear Amy:
Hair is starting to grow on my face and because of this I am the butt of many jokes from my older friends. I have asked my mother to let me shave but she says I'm too young. I'm 15 now and I would like to know how old I have to be before I can start shaving?

Whiskers

Dear Whiskers:
There is no set age for a young man to begin to shave. When your face begins to look dirty and you can't wash it off—it's time to start.

Dear Amy:
I am a girl 19 years old. I have finished high school and I want to go to college and after that build up a career in the business world but my family objects very much. They wish me to get married and have even picked out my husband but I don't want to get married yet. I haven't seen enough of life. Also I want to earn my own living for a while at least. Would you advise me to follow my own desires, or take the advice of my family?
C. W.

Dear C. W.:
You are certainly entitled to follow your own desires. In fact, the experiences of the business world will make you a better wife for the man YOU choose to marry.

Dear Amy:
I'm going with a wonderful fellow for over two years. We are both very much in love and plan to marry in about 2 years. This may sound a little juvenile, but it really has bothered me for some time. His surname is one of the worst I have ever heard. I would like to know how to go about asking him to have it changed? I don't want to hurt him if I can help it. Also could you give me some information about changing one's name?
Stella

Dear Stella:
Having a name changed is fairly simple. Any lawyer can do it. However getting your fiance's consent is very likely more difficult. You can suggest it but if you want YOUR surname changed, don't press trying to change his!

"Oh mom! I've got the nicest roommate"

Smart youngsters "go home" often with long distance telephone calls. It's a fast and personal way to keep in touch with your family and friends at home. When you need advice in a hurry or when you just want to pass on some good news, your best bet is a long distance telephone call, especially if you call after 6 P.M. or on Sunday when rates are lower.
