Watch Out for Flying Termite Colonies

The termites are flying! You may not have realized that they fly, but termites often do in the spring and fall. Many are being seen this year.

The winged (flying) forms of termites are a medium to dark brown in color and about an inch long. The transparent wings are about twice as long as the body and break off readily.

"Flying termites are not cause for alarm," says Marion County Extension Agent Wilbur L. Blumh. However, you should be on the alert when seeing them. Their presence indicates that working termite colony is not too far away, maybe within a block or so.

Flying termites are reproductive forms which have left a working colony. While they are capable of establishing a new colony, few actually succeed in doing so. A complete colony consists of the cream colored "workers" and "soldiers" and the brown reproducing adults.

Blumh adds that while control measures for flying termites may not

Tiny Gets His "Licks"

Our Police Chief, Tiny Fields, started an "anti-jay-walking" drive for the kids on Monday. It ended the same day. Tiny's idea was basically good. He got a few dozen green lollipops and stood on the corner, across the street from the grade school. As the kids came out and crossed the street with the green light, he'd give each a green lollipop.

Trouble was, when the kids spotted the candy, they made a beeline for Tiny, ignoring the light... running helter-skelter across the street. Tiny quickly had to abandon his project. From where I sit, we can all profit from Tiny's experience: "Think through" your good intentions before you "follow through" with them. But don't let that stop you from giving really good intentions, like tolerance, the "green light." Respect all the rights of a neighbor... even his right to enjoy his favorite beverage. Whether a man chooses beer or milk—it's his choice to make, and our job to respect it.
