Billy Graham Film To Be Shown in Idanha November 25

"Oiltown, U. S. A.," famed Billy Graham film, will be shown in Idanha, November 25 at 7:30. Local arrangements are in charge of the Idanha Community church.

Evangelist Graham amazed the entertainment and religious worlds when he produced the world's first Christian western film, "Mr. Texas." More than 5,000,000 persons saw the film in its first two years of showings.

This film, a sequel to "Mr. Texas," was filmed during Graham's crusade in Houston, Texas, and features the young evangelist and his team in their meetings in Rice Stadium where the attendance was as high as 60,000 for a single service. Featured in the 80 minute, full color film, are Colleen Townsend Evans, Paul Power, Robert Clarke, Georgia Lee, Ralph Hoopes, Redd Harper and Cindy Walker.

Doors to the church will be opened at 7. There is no admission.

State Foresters To Plant 6,565,000 Trees This Winter

The state reforestation program for the coming winter contemplates the planting of some 6,565,000 trees and the aerial seeding of 10,620 pounds of tree seed on state owned forest land coming under the jurisdiction of the state forestry department, according to State Forester D. L. Phipps.

Some 5,050,000 of the tree seedlings are to be planted in the Tillamook burn while 8,977 pounds of tree seed will be aerially seeded in the same area, he added. This work will be done largely by crews working under the direction of the department and the 60-man parolce camp located on the South Fork of Wilson River, Phipps stated. An additional million seedlings are to be planted under private contract.

The remaining 1,515,000 seedlings and 1,282 pounds of tree seed are to be used mainly in the reforestation of old burns in 10 separate counties. These include Clatsop, Lincoln, Klamath, Clackamas, Josephine, Linn, Benton, Douglas, Lake and Marion counties, Phipps indicated.

State Health Doctor Says Respiratory Infections to Gain

By Dr. Harold M. Erickson
Oregon State Health Officer

We're back once again to the season when upper respiratory infections can be expected to increase. The most common of these are influenza, pneumonia and the common cold; collectively they probably strike more people than any other group of diseases in the country today.

If Oregon residents maintain the estimated national average, we will have more than five and a quarter million colds this year, or three apiece. Some people wonder why we don't develop an immunity as we do with some other diseases we've had, or why a vaccine can't be developed to give artificial immunity.

Actually comparatively little is known today about the cold, although research is now being intensified. We do know that colds are caused by viruses, a whole family of viruses, about 40 members of which have already been identified. Thus, you could have several "colds" at once, or be recovering from one and get another.

The only available vaccines are effective against a limited number of these viruses, and of course there is no "wonder drug" which can cure a cold.

Courtesy Cold Weapon
The chief weapon we have today against the common cold is plain old-fashioned courtesy. If we will keep our cold to ourselves, rather than trying to give it away, incidence could be reduced. We all know the rules—such as staying at home, sneezing or coughing into disposable tissues, and not talking nose-to-nose with others. An un-protected sneeze, for example, can spray viruses almost 20 feet, and infect a lot of people.

None of the upper respiratory infections should be taken lightly. A cold or the flu can weaken a person to the extent they become easy prey for a serious infection. So don't take any chances. Call your physician when you become ill, and follow his advice.

A cup of shredded American, Swiss or Parmesan cheese weighs about 1/4 pound. When a recipe calls for shredded cheese by cups, look at the weight on the package to judge how much to buy.

Elk Hunters Return With More Tales Of Experiences

By Jean Roberts

MEHAMA—Elk hunters are arriving home in Mehama, some with elk—14 elk have been checked into Gene's Market, and five more are expected tonight. The majority of the Mehama hunters however, who streamed eastward several days prior to the season are still gone.

Reports are that Barney and Leo Kirsch and Gene Coles, each bagged a bull elk. Pearl Allaway called and stated that one member of their party had an elk. Of the Kimsey party, eight men went and five were successful.

Not so successful was Ivan Darby, a veteran hunter who saw two bull elk but failed to get one. Grant Smith, Art Anderson, Bernie Holt and Ivan Darby borrowed a Jeep from a friend for the elk hunting trip. To their consternation the Jeep failed to start on this cold morning. To remedy this they drove the Jeep into the tent each night with themselves to keep it warm enough to start.

Two other hunters reported getting an elk on a steep hillside. It was almost impossible to dress it as it kept sliding down hill. At last they took the shoe laces from their boots and tied the elk to a tree so it could be skinned.

were their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Al Molnar and Jim of Oak Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crook were Sunday dinner guests of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Seamster in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Champ have purchased the Scherzinger house and are moving in this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Shields have moved their trailer house to the Eva Crook property which they purchased recently.
