Firemen Have Good Crowd At Benefit

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the 18th annual Firemen's Benefit Saturday night at the fire hall with approximately $1000 netted according to Tom Kanoff, general chairman.

The bingo tables were filled most of the evening with many going home with turkeys, ham and bacon. Other carnival attractions also drew good sized crowds but Bingo is always the top attraction.

Members of the Auxiliary were kept busy serving hamburgers, coffee and pop throughout the evening.

A large crowd attended the dance with both young and old having a big time.

A drawing was held at 1 o'clock for the door prize of a $100 bill with Mrs. Bentley Eppheimer the lucky winner.

Proceeds from the benefit will assist the firemen in improving and maintaining the department, according to Eldon Hutchinson, fire chief.

Mill City has a fire department that it can be proud of and merits the continued support which it has always received.

Power Co. Still Fixing Power Lines

Permanent repairs of the Columbus Day storm-damage to Pacific Power & Light Company's power transmission and distribution facilities throughout the Willamette Valley and Oregon coast areas are being pushed along to completion, but much work remains to be done a PP&L spokesman reported today.

Several major electric circuits and other power facilities damaged by the October 12 windstorm in this district have been restored to their pre-storm condition, according to Pacific Power's district manager, Tom M. Keenan.

"However, there are still many lines operating with only temporary repairs, and much work still lies ahead to totally clean up all the storm damaged facilities," he added. "Company crewmen and contractors' crews will continue to work until all circuits are back in normal condition," he said.

The district manager said that it would probably be well after the first of the year before all PP&L facilities in western Oregon are returned to a pre-storm condition. More than 100 men employed by independent contractors are on the job assisting PP&L's regular line working force.

Ace Roye To Be On Television Show

Ace Roye, Lyons, and one of his "basketball" jackasses will be featured on Johnny Carpenter's Hi Neighbor show Friday, November 23 at 12 noon, it was learned here today.

The pictures are being taken at a game which is being played in Sherwood.

Roye has been taking his donkeys all around the state playing donkey basketball during the past several years. He has put on his show here.

Union Thanksgiving Services To Be Held At Community Church

There will be Union Thanksgiving services sponsored by the Mill City Ministerial Association held at the Mill City Community church, Thursday, November 22, starting at 10 a. m.

This has been an annual event for several years and all residents are invited to attend.

To Take Private Patients from Oregon

Small Patient at Morningside Hospital, Portland, presents Gov. Mark Hatfield with hand-made hooked rug. During the Governor's tour of the 350-bed psychiatric facility, hospital officials announced that Morningside would begin accepting private patients from Oregon and neighboring states. For the past 50 years, Morningside has been primarily occupied by patients from Alaska.

Mrs. Harold Kliever Hurt in Car Crash

Mill City friends have received word that Mrs. Harold Kliever of Lebanon was seriously injured in a two car accident in that city Thursday night.

Police said Mrs. Kliever drove out of the Southgate Shopping center where she is employed and onto Highway 20 where her car and a vehicle driven by Vernon Rehwinkel, 20, collided. Mrs. Kliever was thrown out of the car and suffered serious head injuries.

Rehwinkel had leg injuries and several teeth knocked out. No citations were issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Kliever lived here for a number of years when he had the meat market at Hilltop Market.

Engineers Talk on City Sewers

A representative of Clark & Groff, engineers of Salem, was present at the November meeting of the city council to talk on the possibility of putting in a sewer system. He spoke on the lagoon system versus the mechanical system; means of financing and an over-all talk on sewer systems in general.

Mayor J. C. Kimmel reported that a request had been made to a representative of the Southern Pacific that the crossing at First and Wall streets be fixed and there has been no action to date, but the company has inspected the area in question.

Police Chief Ronald Teacham gave the report for October with 18 traffic violations cited into court. They included one failure to drive in right hand lane; one contempt of court; three basic rule violations; 1 passing with insufficient clearance; one illegal parking; one expired vehicle license; four expired operators licenses; two defective lights and one driving under the influence of intoxicating beverage.

There were nine minor complaints investigated and cleared; five complaints answered; fines and costs collected $433; and the police car patrolled 1,407 miles.

Fashion Show Is Outstanding Success

An outstanding event of the Fall was the fashion show sponsored by the Pep club at the old Theatre Tuesday evening by Hagen's Apparel of Stayton. Theme for the show was Frosty Twilight.

Members of the Pep club had decorated the stage and foyer of the theatre with fir trees. Silver and blue tinsel added sparkle to the setting.

A long ramp was built from the stage where the models displayed the latest in fashions.

Mrs. Don Sheytle played background music on the piano and Wayne Bayse sang, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Commentator was Mrs. Carol Lucas and models included Mrs. Betty Shaw, Mrs. Sue Poole and Mrs. Sunnie Chance, showing holiday fashions.

Pep club members also modeled dresses showing daytime styles, school clothes and evening wear. Those appearing were Pat Reed, Bonnie Boroughs, Carol Rust, Marilee Teller, Pat Armstrong, Karen Meader, Sheri Howton, Janeta Johnson, Mary Ann Meader, Carol Ragsdale, Janice Logan, Carol Stevens, Pat Pittam, Sherry Bennett and Tamra Morris. Carol Stevens also modeled hair styles fashioned by Dolly's Hair Fashion Studio in Stayton.

A number of door prizes were given by Hagen's.

Error In Story In Last Issue

We regret an error made in last week's issue of The Enterprise when an article stated that a new Campfire group, under the direction of Mrs. Worley was being organized. It should have stated that Girl Scout Unit had been started and Mrs. Worley and Mrs. Olmstead are hoping that some group in town will sponsor them. It is understood that the girls in this 10-14 age group are not actively participating in Campfire this year and the Girl Scout troop will replace it.

Citizens Building Committee To Meet Thursday, Nov. 29 To Discuss School Expansion

Letters have been sent out to some 30 citizens in the Mill City area calling them to a Citizens Building Committee meeting to be held Thursday evening, November 29 at 7:30 in room 12 of the main elementary school building.

Along with the letter a draft of what is expected to be discussed at the meeting has been enclosed to give those invited an opportunity to become familiar with the needs of the school, prior to the meeting.

The board of education and an architect will be present, to show the need for additional classroom space to insure proper training of the youth of the area.

The steady growth of this area makes it mandatory at this time to bring the long-range building program into sharp focus and to discuss ways and means of keeping pace with this growth.

At the present time, according to school officials enrollment has reached a peak of 326, or 37 more than the 289 average of last year. Current census figures indicate there will be an increase of at least 23 students next year. These figures may vary up or down within another year but they are indicative of the trend of our population expansion.

The meeting to be held Thursday is a preliminary session of the building committee and it is the plan to provide an opportunity for public discussion of this matter in the near future by arranging a meeting where questions may be submitted for clarification.

The services of an architect are being used to provide guidance in the early deliberations incident to construction. When building plans have been finalized, cost estimates will be made available, at which time an intelligent decision could be made with respect to any proposed bond issue.

Ample notice of a general meeting will be given in The Enterprise when all citizens will be invited to come and express their views.

Gregg Stevens Inducted Into Lions Monday

Gregg Stevens of Mill City was formally inducted into the Lions club Monday evening in an impressive ceremony conducted by Charles Kelly. Stevens is the first new member to be taken into the club this fall.

Ok! Ono, exchange student, came as a guest of his foster father, Lowell Fleetwood.

There was discussion on the upcoming ladies night which will be held Monday, November 26. All those planning to attend and bringing their wives are asked to notify Lee Ross at once, so plans can be made for serving the dinner. Louis Horn of the State Industrial Accident Commission in Salem will be featured speaker. He will speak and show slides on Israel.

For the program Monday night Lee Bassett had a film on the construction of the Swift River dam on the Lewis river. This dam was built by Pacific Power & Light.

The government attorney in Washington, D. C., representing the FCC advised in a telephone conversation to Video Utility that no problems are apparent in securing approval of applications filed for the TV translator station.

It was stated that construction permits would have already been granted except for an extra heavy work-load now existing in the FCC engineering office.

Applications for four channels of translator TV were filed September 22nd and the attorney indicated that since no protests were filed during the waiting period and since no other problems exist the permits should be forthcoming soon.

Howard May of the Golden Rule TV said today that he had received word from the Video Utility Company of Seattle, Wn., that their attorney had been in contact with the FCC in Washington, D. C. and that no protests had been heard in granting of the station license.

There is normally a 30 to 60 day waiting period before formal approval is given after the filing of the application.

He also said that plans locally were coming along on schedule and that construction of the translator station would begin as soon as the permit is received.

The November family night pot luck dinner of the Mill City Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday, November 28 at 6:30 in Fellowship hall. The evening is being sponsored by the Christian Education committee and members and friends are asked to keep the date open.

Those attending are asked to bring either a hot dish, salad or dessert, and milk for the children. Coffee and tea will be furnished.

This will be the last meeting of this type for this season. The program will conclude at 8 p. m.

Many Parents Visit School During National Ed. Week

Lawrence Brent, superintendent at Mill City Elementary school, said this week that he was pleased with the response for parents to visit school last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday during National Education week.

He said 139 parents visited with many of them staying for the school lunch, which came in for a great deal of praise. He said that a number of parents commented on how much better the lunches were here than other schools their youngsters had attended.

The parents, in many instances, not only visited rooms where their youngsters were attending but also other rooms.
