HOMES FROM TREE FARMS ... grow every day!

It requires about 10,000 board feet of lumber, or the annual growth from 50 acres of well managed forestland, to build a six-room house. We are building more than a million new homes a year.

That's why Tree Farming—the growing of trees as a crop—is important to all citizens. More than that—Tree Farming means multiple use of our lands for many values of the forests.
