Up and Down The Avenue

By Don Moffatt

A lot of people had the opportunity of hearing and seeing England's threat to the mental stability of the American female teenager on TV Sunday when they appeared on Ed Sullivan's show. I'm referring, of course, to the Beatles. I got quite a kick out of them. I also enjoyed seeing audience reaction. The girls were jumping, screaming and panting like marathon runners. On the other hand the boys were just sitting there, like they were disgusted with the whole thing. I couldn't help but get a lot of fun out of the entertainers. I enjoyed their facial expressions, and most of all their funky hairdos. Even so, I like the way they do their hair better than that of the American girl. I have always disliked this ratted, messy look they portray. They always remind me of Orphan Annie just as she had seen a big snake or something and hollers "Yiiiiii", you know the effect I mean. Maybe the females of our country will now take on the "Beatle" look. I would be an improvement. Not too long ago we went to church and were surprised when we saw a couple of young girls with their hair done in a natural manner. How refreshing it looked. The hair had a natural shine, and they really looked nice, a relief from the wild zombie effect most of them wear. Also missing was all the goop around their eyes. I can remember when I was young. My father was a fireman on the railroad, back when they hand-fired the engines with coal. He used to come home with black rings around his eyes, much like some of the women and girls today—only his was a badge of honor—pure hard labor. It didn't come out of a bottle. Oh, he-k enough for the styles of today.

Two words today that pack a great deal of emotional dynamite are communism and capitalism. They represent the fundamental economic and political systems under which the people of the world live. The two forms of government are as different as night and day. Under our form of government, the state is a symbol of self-government, a source of national pride, but also a mechanism of limited powers. Under communism, people live for the state.

Under our form of government, the people own and manage the principal resources and the productive facilities of the nation. This ownership is the source of our independence. Ownership provides incentive and inspiration to the individual. This pride and incentive will remain with us unless government agencies continue to over-govern us. When the time comes that taxes are too high, incentive will not be our ruling motivation. We will lose the desire to improve our lot in life. Right now the government is attempting to cut down on taxes. This is good, but I do believe they should also curb expenditures, especially in foreign aid. Maybe we should do more to improve the lot of our own people. Time alone will solve this riddle of less taxes and continued government spending.

I read a good one the other day on this "truth in labeling" bit that is making news. Imagine Omar Khayyam wooing his girl with: "A loaf of bread, calcium propionate added to retard spoilage, a jug of wine, color added, and thou." Just another problem today... how far should we go in regulating things.

Sunday was another of those real nice winter days which we get every once in awhile. We drove to the coast to look around. It was real nice there. Several people were enjoying picnics on the beach and several were in swimming. When coming home, we saw many had been playing in the snow in the Cascades. Isn't it nice to live in a country where both swimming and skiing can be enjoyed at the same time of year? Not every state in the union is so blessed. That is probably why so many people from other states are coming here to make their home.

Allan Warde and Janet Hutchinson were in Sublimity Saturday morning to attend the Boedigheimer-Wisenhunt wedding, held at the Catholic Church. Allan was an usher at the wedding.

County Treasurer Bob Coe today announced that he would seek the Republican nomination for re-election to that office in Marion county. He is completing his first term. Coe said that he would stand on his record of having "made good on my 1960 promise of greater efficiency at less tax cost." He noted that during his term, interest received had increased by 1200 per cent from the investment of general fund balances. Although the work load of the office had increased by more than two-thirds, the office was operated with fewer employees, he declared.

In Oregon... after bowling, beer is a natural!

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Oregon... beer goes with fun, with relaxation
