Especially beautiful was the Holland display with the blue hyacinths and hundreds of tulips. In the other divisions were plants from South America, Europe, Asia, Australia, Hawaii, and native garden material from North America. Hawaii featured anthuriums, Birds of Paradise, Ginger, palm trees, bamboo and tye leaves. There were large displays of daffodils by Grant Mitch from Canby. Miss Fisher pointed out the many misconceptions in this program and the many problems involved. She said this is the fastest growing segment of the welfare program. One of the reasons for this is the prevalence of teen-age marriages, which many times fail. Miss Fisher said so many people say about the ADC mothers, "Why Don't They Do This or That?"
